THE CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD, PRESIDENT AND
CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER
AUGUST A. BUSCH, JR.

August A. Busch, Jr., became president of the Cardinals when Anheuser-Busch, Inc. purchased the club in February, 1953.

Mr. Busch is honorary chairman of Anheuser-Busch Companies, Inc. The company has main offices in St. Louis with breweries in St. Louis; Newark, N.J.; Los Angeles, Calif.; Tampa, Fla.; Houston, Texas; Columbus, Ohio; Jacksonville, Fla.; Merrimack, N.H.; Williamsburg, Va.; Fairfield, Calif.; and Baldwinsville, N.Y.

Mr. Busch started his career with the company in 1924 as general superintendent. He was elected sixth vice president in 1926, and in 1931, was elected vice president and a member of the board of directors. He became president in 1946, chairman of the board in April, 1956 and honorary chairman of the board in April, 1977.

He was commissioned a major in the U.S. Army Ordnance Department, in 1942. In July, 1945, he retired from active service with the rank of colonel. For his war-time service, he received several citations and the award of the Legion of Merit.

Mr. Busch served as president of the St. Louis Bicentennial Corporation, formed to give leadership and planning to the celebration of the 200th anniversary of the founding of St. Louis.

He served for 13 years as Chairman of the Board of Civic Progress, Inc., a non-profit organization of civic leaders devoted to the revitalization of the St. Louis area; was chairman of St. Louis University's successful $18,000,000 Development Fund Drive; a director of Centerre Trust Company, General American Life Insurance Company and St. Louis Municipal Opera.

Mr. Busch received the Fleur-de-lis Award, the highest award given by St. Louis University, in November, 1960; received The Man and Boy Award from the National Boys' Club of America in November, 1966; was presented the "Citizen No. 1" award from the Press Club of Metropolitan St. Louis in 1967; and received an Honorary Doctorate of Laws Degree from St. Louis University in 1966.

In 1975, Mr. Busch was elected to the Missouri Sports Hall of Fame. Then St. Louis Mayor, John Poelker, proclaimed Mr. Busch as "Special Ambassador for the City of St. Louis." In addition, Mr. Busch was the recipient of the Levee Stone Award from Downtown St. Louis, Inc., and the Spirit of St. Louis Award from St. Louis University.

Mr. Busch served as chairman of the fund-raising drive for the St. Louis Convention Center and was honored by the Convention and Visitors Bureau for his efforts. In addition, a hall at the new St. Louis Convention Center has been named in his honor.

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT AND CHIEF OPERATING OFFICER FRED L. KUHLMANN

Fred Kuhlmann became executive vice president and chief operating officer of the Cardinals on November 5, 1984.

Although his connection with the Cardinals in recent years has been as Executive Vice-President of Anheuser-Busch Companies, which owns the ball club, he has maintained a lively interest in the Cardinals dating from his boyhood when he grew up in the vicinity of old Sportsman's Park.

Kuhlmann serves with Mr. Busch, Jr. and Louis B. Susman (consultant to Mr. Busch) as a member of the Cardinal's executive committee. He is also a member of baseball's Player Relations Committee.

Kuhlmann, born April 24, 1916, in St. Louis, has law degrees from Washington University of St. Louis and Columbia University, and was a senior partner in a law firm until he joined Anheuser-Busch in 1967 as general counsel. Subsequently he became executive vice president and vice chairman of the board of directors of Anheuser-Busch. He retired from Anheuser-Busch in December, 1983, but still serves as vice chairman of the board and as a consultant to the company. He is chairman of the board of Civic Center Corporation, one of the Anheuser-Busch companies and owner of Busch Stadium.

He is a member of the board of Mercantile Bankcorporation, St. Louis National Baseball Club, Inc., Manufacturers' Railway Company, Mercantile Trust Company, Concordia Publishing House, Aid Association for Lutherans (Appleton, Wisconsin) and Civic Center Corporation.

He and his wife, Mildred, who live in Frontenac, have two children, Marilyn K. Brickler and F. Mark Kuhlmann.

VICE PRESIDENT - ADMINISTRATION GARY A. BLASE

Gary Blase continued in 1984 to assume more responsibility for the operations of the Cardinals, receiving the title of vice president-administration. He originally joined the ball club in 1977 as director of operations and controller, and later moved up to the position of vice president-business operations. He has responsibility for all financial and internal business affairs of the Cardinals.

A 39-year-old University of Missouri-Columbia graduate in business administration, Blase is a certified public accountant. He previously was affiliated with General Dynamics Corporation and the accounting firm of Haskins and Sells.

He lives in North St. Louis County with his wife, Leah, and two sons, Ryan and Justin.

THE MANAGER

DORRELL NORMAN (WHITEY) HERZOG (24)

Whitey Herzog has managed in the big leagues in all or part of 12 seasons, and has established himself as one of the game's all-time outstanding field leaders. In the eight full seasons in which he has managed, his team has finished with the best record in its division five times, even if one of them was the ill-fated 1981 split strike season in which the Cardinals were voted out of post-season play.

In four full seasons at Kansas City, he had three titles and one second-place finish, and also led the 1982 Cardinals to the World's Championship. His overall record, including partial seasons at Texas, California, Kansas City and St. Louis is 811 won and 706 lost.

He was named "Manager of the Year" in 1976 by UPI and the Baseball Bulletin, and in 1982 by The Sporting News and UPI. The UPI also named him "Executive of the Year" in 1981 and 1982, and The Sporting News made him "Man of the Year" in 1982.

Herzog became the Cardinals' manager on June 9, 1980, succeeding Ken Boyer and inheriting a 19-34 last-place record. Whitey managed until August 29, with a 38-35 mark, and then moved up to the job of general manager. He became manager again in October, while retaining the GM's hat, too.

After greatly transforming the Cardinals with two winters of off-season trades, putting together a team he thought could win, Herzog turned over the general manager's title to Joe McDonald on April 10, 1982, then went on to manage the Cardinals to the World's Championship.

He logged 8 years in the majors as a player, including stints with Washington, Kansas City, Baltimore and Detroit as an outfielder-first baseman...His last year as a player was 1963 with the Tigers...Whitey was originally signed by the New York Yankees immediately following his graduation from New Athens High School.

Whitey, 5-11, 195 was born November 9, 1931 in New Athens, Ill...He and his wife Mary Lou have 3 children: Debra (1/31/55), who is married and lives in Blue Springs, MO; David (9/8/57), married and living in Kansas City; and Jim (8/11/61)...The Herzogs have made their home in Independence, MO, a suburb of Kansas City, since 1958...A popular and well-known personality in baseball, Whitey is recognized for his never-ending enthusiasm, frankness and honesty...He was nicknamed Whitey by Bill Speith, McAlester sportscaster, because of his light hair.

THE COACHES

HAL LANIER (8)

Hal Lanier, 42, got his first opportunity in the major leagues as a coach with the 1981 Cardinals after compiling an outstanding record as a minor league manager in the Cardinal organization over a five year period. His assignment this season will be as third-base coach.

He had been at Springfield, Illinois for two seasons prior to coming to St. Louis, finishing second in 1979 and winning the American Association Championship in 1980.

In his first year as a manager, he finished third with St. Petersburg in the Florida State League, and in 1977 won the Carolina League championship at Gastonia and was elected "Manager of the Year." Back in St. Pete in 1978, his team was first-half champion and finished second in the second half. He was chosen 1980's Minor League Manager of the Year by The Sporting News.

Lanier, a former major league infielder with the San Francisco Giants and the New York Yankees, is the son of former Cardinal pitcher Max Lanier. He was born in Denton, North Carolina, but grew up in St. Petersburg. Lanier signed a bonus contract with the Giants in 1961 and reached the majors in 1964 in time to drive in a run that beat the Cardinals in a game at old Busch Stadium (it was also his first major league at-bat). He came up as a second baseman, but was the regular shortstop for the Giants until 1971 when he was displaced by Chris Speier. Hal led National League shortstops in fielding percentage in 1968. He wound up his major league career with the Yankees in 1973 and was signed by Cardinals as a free agent in April of 1974 and assigned to Tulsa where he hit .269 in 103 games. He was a player-coach for the Tulsa Oilers in 1975.

NICK LEYVA (16)

After six years as a minor league manager in the Cardinals' organization, Nick Leyva was promoted to the St. Louis club in 1984. He will be the first base coach under Whitey Herzog this season.

The 31-year-old former infielder managed at Johnson City in 1978 and '79, finishing second and fifth, respectively, and was third and second in two halves of the 1980 season at Gastonia. He was at St. Petersburg for the entire 1981 season (finishing third and second in two halves) and started 1982 at St. Pete, but moved up to Arkansas in the last half of the season (second in the last half of the season). In 1983, at Arkansas, his team was fourth in the first section of the schedule, and first in the second half.

Leyva signed with the Cardinals as an infielder after being selected 24th by the club in the June, 1975 free agent draft. He was named to the N.A.I.A. All-American squad in 1975 while attending LaVerne College in California.

Nick broke in with Sarasota in 1975 and ended the season at St. Petersburg. He split the 1976 campaign between St. Pete and Arkansas and ended his playing career with Arkansas in 1977.

Nick and his wife, Chèle, have one child, a son, Casey (10/22/83).

DAVID WILLIAM RICKETTS (3)

In his second tour as a Cardinal coach, Dave has been with the St. Louis club since 1978. He previously had filled the same job in 1974 and '75. As a Cardinal minor league manager in-between, he led Sarasota to a third-place finish in 1976 and had a similar result at Johnson City in 1977.

He originally signed with the Cardinals in 1957 as a catcher, and spent all of the 1967-68-69 seasons with the Red Birds as a back-up catcher and pinch-hitter and appeared in both the 1967 and 1968 World Series...His last season as a player was with Pittsburgh in 1970...Served the Pirates as bullpen coach from 1971 through 1973 but then returned to the Cardinal organization in 1974.

Ricketts was born in Pottstown, PA but now makes his home in Rochester, NY with his wife, Barbara. Their daughter, Candy, is a recent graduate of Temple University, and is employed in Philadelphia. For many years, Ricketts taught and coached basketball at John Fisher College in Rochester in the off-season.

He received his bachelor of arts degree from Duquesne University in Pittsburgh, where he starred in basketball along with his brother, Dick, a former Cardinal pitcher.

MIKE ROARKE (4)

Mike Roarke joined Whitey Herzog's coaching staff in 1984, replacing Hub Kittle as pitching coach.

For the three previous seasons, Mike had been pitching coach for the Pawtucket Club of the International League in the Boston Red Sox organization. He worked only at home games while continuing to pursue a career as an insurance agent.

He started coaching following his retirement as a player after the 1964 season. He had three years each with the Detroit Tigers and the California Angels, then became a minor league manager at Toledo, Evansville and Wichita over a five-year period. In 1976 and '77 he was a roving pitching instructor for the Chicago Cubs, then moved to the majors with the Cubs from 1978 through 1980.

As a player, he caught for the Tigers from 1961 through 1964 and had eight minor league seasons before that.

He was a 1952 graduate of Boston College, where he lettered in baseball and football. He and his wife, Merry Sue, live in Cranston, RI. They have one son and four daughters — Susan, Thomas, Karen, Janet and Kelly.

ALBERT FRED SCHOENDIENST (2)

"Red" returned again to the Redbird coaching ranks in 1979. He coached in St. Louis from 1961 to '64 under manager Johnny Keane. He then began a 12-year stint as Cardinal manager, the longest anyone has occupied the position. As manager, he led the Cardinals to National League pennants in 1967 and '68, and the World Championship in 1967. He also served as interim manager of the Redbirds for the last part of the 1980 season when Whitey Herzog moved from the field to occupy the general manager's position for the Cardinals. "Red" also spent two seasons coaching at Oakland in 1977 and '78.

Schoendienst was a Cardinal player for 14 years, an outstanding second baseman and hitter. He played in the 1946 World Series for the Cardinals and in 1957 and '58 for Milwaukee. He was chosen to ten National League All-Star game squads and played in nine of the games.

As a player, he appeared in 2,216 games and has 2,449 hits, and a lifetime batting average of .289.

"Red" was born on February 2, 1923, at Germantown, Illinois, and is married to the former Mary Eileen O'Reilly. They have four married children — Colleen, Cathleen, Eileen and Kevin.

THE PLAYERS

NEIL ALLEN (13)

Pitcher                      Ht: 6-2                      Wt: 190

Bats: Right                      Throws: Right

Age: 27                      Born: 1-24-58 at Kansas City, Kansas

Became Cardinal — June 15, 1983. Acquired along with Rick Ownbey in a trade with the New York Mets for first baseman, Keith Hernandez. Originally was Mets' 11th selection in the June, 1976 free agent draft. Signed by Russ Sefton and Ed Charles, June 19, 1976.

M.L. Service — 6,000.

1984 — In the past, Neil Allen has often expressed himself as being puzzled over just what role he was supposed to play. There shouldn't be any doubt now, for Whitey Herzog has designated him as successor to Bruce Sutter in the bullpen, i.e., the short relief man whose job is to hold the lead and wrap up the victory. Allen has been in that spot before, with the Mets in 1980-81-82, when he had a three-season (one of them shortened) record of 59 saves and 17 victories for a team with a record of 173-254. Even with the role confusion, Neil didn't do badly in 1984, although he had his frustrating moments when nothing seemed to go right. However, between May 7 and May 25, he pitched 17 consecutive scoreless innings in 7 appearances, allowing just 5 hits along the way. His longest job of the season was 5-2/3 scoreless innings on August 31 to score a victory over Houston's Nolan Ryan. As a reliever, he had a 9-5 won-lost record with 3 saves, and he lost the only game he started. He missed a week of the season (July 30-August 5) because of a pulled groin muscle.

Career Highlights — Prior to 1983, Allen had not started a game since 1979 when he started the first five games of his major league career as a rookie for the Mets. After going 0-4 he was converted to a reliever and soon established himself as one of the league's best. He began the 1983 season as a reliever, had problems, was changed to a starter with limited success, was returned to the bullpen and then was dealt to the Cardinals in a controversial mid-season trade. Allen began his Cardinal career as a starter and posted a 5-1 record but then lost four straight starts (7/29-8/12) to prompt his move out of the rotation. His relief record as a Redbird was 3-0 with a 1.88 ERA in 7 games. Allen returned to the starting rotation on September 1 and finished the year 7-6 with a 3.94 ERA in 18 starts in St. Louis. Allen posted two straight shutouts in 1983 (July 19, 4-0 over San Diego and July 24, 3-0 over Los Angeles) and was named National League Player of the Week for his efforts. He yielded only 9 hits overall in the two games. He had a streak of 22 consecutive scoreless innings of work that ended when the Expos scored on him in the 5th inning of the July 29 game. Although only with the Cardinals for part of the season, Allen led the team in winning streak (4), tied for the team high in strikeouts in a game, reliever (7), lead the team in most innings pitched in a game, reliever (6.2) and led the team in most consecutive scoreless innings pitched, starter (22).

In 1982 he finished sixth in the National League in saves despite having his season drastically curtailed by illness and injury. Appeared in only five games after August 1. Sideline for the first time in June. Recorded his 15th save on June 14. The next morning Neil became ill and was sent back to Roosevelt Hospital in New York to be examined. Tests determined he was suffering from a bacterial infection of the colon and did not pitch again until the second game of June 26th doubleheader against the Phillies at Philadelphia. On August 8 in Pittsburgh while warming up in the bullpen he felt soreness in his right elbow. Upon returning to New York, he was examined. The x-rays were negative and the injury was diagnosed as a slight strain of the elbow.

Saw action in 50 games with the Mets in 1979 and posted a 6-10 record with eight saves. Gained his first major league victory on May 12, 1979 against the Cardinals with 1.2 innings of relief in 8-7 success. Went on disabled list on May 31 when he injured his rib cage while pitching in St. Louis. At the time of his injury he was 1-5 with a 7.14 ERA and appeared headed for Tidewater. Received relieve when Skip Lockwood was injured and Neil was moved from a starter to the bullpen...Became the number one reliever when he was activated on June 25...From that point he made 38 appearances and had a 5-5 record with eight saves and a 2.06 ERA...First save was July 28, 1979 vs. Cubs at New York.

Established himself as one of the premier relief pitchers in baseball in 1980...Saved 22 games and didn't permit a run in 37 of his 59 appearances...On six occasions, he pitched three or more scoreless innings in relief...In 1981, Neil was third in NL saves with 18. Was fourth in the league in 1980...Played a part in 25 of the Mets' 41 triumphs with seven victories and 18 saves...Began the 'Second Season' after strike with best streak of year...From August 11-August 27, he didn't allow a run in eight consecutive appearances (14 innings) and recorded a pair of wins and six saves...Tied with Rick Camp for Player of the Week honors, August 17-23...For the week, he was 1-0 with two saves in three games and no runs in 6.1 innings...Second time he was Player of the Week (first time, July 1-6, 1980)...Was 2-0 with three saves in six appearances, September 8-27.

While playing for Lynchburg in 1977, he led the Carolina League in strikeouts (126) and winning percentage (10-2, .833), tied for the lead in complete games (11) and was second in ERA (2.79)...That year he was named to the league, and Class A All-Star squads...In 1978, while at Jackson, he paced the Texas League in ERA (2.10) and was selected to play in the league All-Star game.

Awards/Honors — In 1983, Allen became the first National League pitcher since 1976 to shut out the same team twice while pitching for two different clubs. He blanked the Dodgers 4-0 on May 20 while with the Mets and then 3-0 on July 24 while with St. Louis.

Misc. — Earned varsity letters in baseball, football, and basketball at Bishop Ward High School in Kansas City...In football, he was a quarterback and received Honorable Mention All-American honors...Had football scholarship offers from all Big Eight Conference Schools...He did sign a letter of intent with Kansas State, but decided to concentrate on baseball when he was picked by the Mets...Credits much of his early success to his father, who has been legally blind for the last 20 years...An active volunteer for Muscular Dystrophy. He and his wife, Linda, have two children - a son, Neil Robert (9-15-81) and a daughter, Courtney Leigh (8-15-84).

JOAQUIN ANDUJAR (47)

Pitcher      Ht: 6-0      Wt: 180

Bats: Both      Throws: Right

Age: 32 (Turns 33 on December 21)

Born: 12-21-52 at San Pedro de Marcoris, D.R.

Became Cardinal — June 6, 1981 acquired in trade with Houston Astros for outfielder Tony Scott.

M.L. Service — 9.00.

1984 — From traded away by Houston in 1981, to World Series hero in 1982, to 6-16 in 1983, to 20-14 and the National League's only 20-game winner in 1984. That's the kind of roller-coaster ride Joaquin Andujar has been on. His most recent effort earned him the "Comeback Player of the Year" honors from The Sporting News and United Press International. It all started in spring training when Joaquin reported at 192 pounds, about 20 fewer than he finished 1983 with, and then developed a puzzling change-up pitch to go with the power he already had. Despite problems from a minor hamstring pull, he was 13-6 by the All-Star game, although he didn't participate because he was called home by the illness of his grandfather, who had raised him. He started 36 times and had 34 decisions, and was "Player of the Week" in the final week of the season when he won his 20th. He led the league in victories (20) and innings pitched (261.1), was tied for first in shutouts with 4, and was second in complete games with 12. Sometimes switch-hitting, hard-swinging Joaquin also made history on the batting front in 1984. He hit two home runs, one a grand slam on May 15 against Jeff Dedmon of Atlanta at Busch Stadium, a rather remarkable feat for one who struck out 47 times in 84 at bats. Even more remarkable is the fact that he walked three times in three trips to the plate on June 25 against Montreal.

Career Highlights — Andujar won his first two starts of 1983 to extend his winning streak to 12 games, dating back to August 6, 1982. He then lost five straight games and later struggled through a six game skid, the longest of his career... Was a 'tough luck' pitcher to a certain extent, losing eight games in which the team scored a total of 4 runs. However, he also gave up 23 home runs in 39 games compared to only 11 in 38 games in 1982. Joaquin also walked 75 batters in 225 innings (3.00 per game) compared to 50 walks in 265.2 IP (1.69 per game in 1982)... Andujar joined the relief corps from August 3 until August 10 after he posted only a 1-8 record with 6 no-decisions and a 4.57 ERA in his previous 15 starts, but was back in the rotation by year-end... Despite having a disappointing year, Andujar still led the 1983 Cardinals in innings pitched (225.0), games started (34) and strikeouts (125)... Andujar recorded both his first Cardinal game winning RBI and his first walk in Cardinal uniform during the season.

In 1982 Andujar emerged from the bullpen where he had been a spot starter and long reliever for the last several years, to become one of the Cardinals' most effective front liners. He tied Bob Forsch for the team lead in wins with 15, and led the team in ERA, games started, complete games, innings pitched, and strikeouts and gave up the fewest walks of any starter. On a league level, Andujar finished the season third in ERA, second in shutouts, fifth in won-loss, fifth in innings pitched, and seventh in complete games. In 1982 Andujar started more games and pitched more innings than he ever had in his career, taking the mound with three days rest through much of the season... Andujar thrived down the pennant stretch. Between August 12 and September 24 he won 7 of his 10 starts (with the Cards also getting the win in the three games in which he did not get the decision) and recorded 29-2/3 consecutive scoreless innings... Was the winning pitcher in one playoff and two World Series games. Won the third game in the NLCS, 6-2, over Atlanta, to give the Cards the National League Championship. Got the winning verdict in game 3 of the World Series, another 6-2 Cardinal win, but was hit on the knee by a Ted Simmons line drive in the seventh inning and had to be carried off the field. Andujar was able to return for the seventh game, however, and led the Cardinals to a 6-3 victory and the World Championship.

Arrived in St. Louis shortly before the 1981 strike so Cardinal fans had to wait over two months to see him in action. He was then used as a spot starter and long reliever and was particularly valuable against the Expos against whom he was undefeated in three starts... Opted for free agency after the 1981 season and was selected by 11 other clubs but chose to return to the Cardinals... 1980 started off slowly for Andujar. Was 0-4 for the season and had a record of 0-8 stretching back to August of 1979 before he defeated the Expos as a starter on 7/19. Finished the season at 3-8 with 2 saves. However, he put together a string of 21 consecutive scoreless innings pitched, spanning four starts and one relief appearance... He made his first major league start, 4/16/76 vs. San Diego... In 1978 he was hampered by recurring abdominal and hamstring muscle pulls.

Awards/Honors — Was named the National League's Pitcher of the Month for September of 1982 when he was 5-0 with three complete games and 0.93 ERA over 48.2 innings pitched... With his World Series appearances in 1982, he became the first pitcher from the Dominican Republic to start and also to win a World Series game... Was named St. Louis' Baseball Man of the Year in 1982 and again for '84 by the St.

Louis Chapter of the BBWAA. Selected National League Player of the Week, 6/6/76.

Misc. — Graduated from Jose Perez High School, San Pedro de Marcoris, D.R., where he played baseball, basketball and volleyball.

Infielder-Outfielder      Ht: 5-10      Wt: 180

Age: 36 (Turns 37 on May 8)

Born: 5-8-48 at Trenton, New Jersey

Became Cardinal — March 3, 1981. Signed Springfield, Ill., contract as free agent.

M.L. Service — 13.143.

1984 — Braun entered spring training in 1984 with a major league contract for the first time in his Cardinal career. He previously defied odds for three years in a row by earning a spot on the team's 25-man roster although reporting to spring training in 1981, '82 and '83 as a non-roster invitee...Once again he served as the team's top left-handed pinch hitter, making good on 17 of 60 (.283) trips to the plate...Braun also made the most of his 17 hits driving in 12 runs with them...Steve is one of the top professional pinch-hitters ever to play the game. Entering the '85 season he leads all active players with 102 pinch-hits and ranks 9th on the all-time list, 1 behind Mike Lum (103), 6 behind Gates Brown (108), 7 behind Terry Crowley (109) and 48 behind all-time leader Manny Mota (150)...His 44 Cardinal pinch-hits place Steve only 9 behind all-time leader Red Schoendienst (53)...Not to be thought of only as a one dimensional player, Braun started 10 games in the outfield, and handled 11 chances flawlessly.

Career Highlights — The Cardinals' most active pinch-hitter in 1982 and '83. Braun took more trips to the plate and collected more hits as a substitute than anyone else on the team...He also coaxed more walks in the pinch-hitting role than any other...Showed the ability to play wherever he was needed in '82. When Ken Oberkfell was on the disabled list on Opening Day, Braun picked up the third baseman's glove, which he hadn't worn on a regular basis since 1973, and took the field with the Cardinals front-liners. He also got a start in left field during the year...Got the game winning RBI in Game 2 of the World Series. With the score tied 4-4 in the bottom of the eighth and the bases loaded, Braun walked on four pitches to force in the winning run and give the Cards their first win of the series, 5-4.

Joined the Cardinals in spring training in 1981 as a free agent, and signed a contract at the start of the season. Was used as a left-handed pinch-hitter and took more trips to the plate than any one else on the team. He went 5-25 (.200) and drew 9 walks in that role. Saw occasional outfield service including a start on 8/18 vs. Montreal (his first start since 1979) in which he made several outstanding defensive plays.

Began his pro career in Minnesota where he played for six years appearing in 100 or more games in each campaign with the Twins. He was selected Minnesota's outstanding rookie in 1971 by virtue of his .254 average over 128 games and was also named to the Topp's major league All-Rookie Team that year...Went from Minnesota to Seattle in 1977 and contributed to the young Mariners' offensive attack while seeing the most service of his career (139 games) and showing solid defensive skills in the outfield by tying for the club high in assists (11)...Acquired by Kansas City in 1978 and saw considerable action in the outfield and also played at 3rd base...Was moved into the lead-off spot the final month of '78 while holding down regular duties against righthanded pitchers...Was Royals' top pinch-hitter for two years...Spent part of 1980 season with Toronto Blue Jays.

Misc. — Steve is married to the former Diane Kalbunole. They have two children: an eight year old girl, Erin Laine; and a six year old boy, Stephen Blair...Steve graduated from Hopewell Valley High School in Pennington, New Jersey, in 1966.

GLENN EDWARD BRUMMER (11)

Catcher Ht: 6-0 Wt: 200

Bats: Right Throws: Right

Age: 30 (Turns 31 on November 23)

Born: 11-23-54 at Olney, Illinois

Became Cardinal — Signed as a free agent by Cardinal scouts Fred McAlister and Jim Belz on May 20, 1974.

M.L. Service — 3.122.

1984 — Brummer handled the task of relief man to durable catcher Darrell Porter the first part of the season until a nagging ankle injury finally shelved him on the 15-day disabled list, 7/22. To allow Glenn to play his way back into shape, he was assigned to Louisville under the provisions of the injury rehabilitation program, 8/14. He was activated from injury rehab in time for the final month of the season...Due to injury and the durability of Porter, Brummer was limited to 17 starts. When he did play, Glenn was solid behind the plate, throwing out 6 of 13 would-be base stealers, a club leading 46%...He hit his first career homer off Scott Sanderson at Chicago, 4/18 in the second game of a doubleheader...Excelled against Giant pitching, 4-for-8 (.500).

Career Highlights — Brummer spent the whole year in the big league for the first time in 1983 and showed that he hasn't forgotten what got him there; aggressiveness and 100% effort. Whatever Brummer lacks in natural athletic ability, he makes up for in enthusiasm. He parlayed his desire to play into a role as the Cardinals' number two catcher in 1983, starting 23 games in relief of Porter. . . With Brummer in the game, things seemed to happen. His uniform was always dirty. He became known among teammates and fans for his "ugly hits", check-swing bloopers that always dropped for singles and doubles. . . Brummer played in more games this season than he had before in the big leagues, and also got more at-bats, hits and RBI than in either of his previous two stints in the major leagues. His major league average (.276 in 1983) surpassed the .244 average he posted in three years at the AAA level.

Brummer will always be remembered by Cardinal fans for his play on August 22, 1982. . . In the 12th inning of a home game against San Francisco, he made his way to third base after a pinch-hit single. From there, with 2 outs and the count 2-2, the catcher stole home to give him his second big league stolen base and give St. Louis a frantic 3-2 victory. . . He started the year with the big league club but was optioned down when Ken Obkertell came off the disabled list. Called on to be the starting receiver in May when Gene Tenace and Darrell Porter were on the disabled list. During that period he personified the type of play that made the Cardinals successful. In a home game against the Dodgers on June 4 he stole third (the first stolen base of his major league career), then scored a crucial run on a squeeze play. Two nights later against the same team, he beat out a bunt, then slid hard into second base to force a bad throw that allowed the Cards to score twice on what could have been a double play. From that point on Brummer became one of the club's pinch-runners.

In 1981 Brummer was brought up to the big club on May 24 after Darrell Porter was placed on the disabled list and helped fill the gap. . . Got his first major league hit on May 29 against the Phillies. . . Wasn't sure how long he'd be at St. Louis so he maintained his home in Springfield, Illinois, and made the 2 hour trek before and after each game. . . He suffered a knee injury described by doctors as one of the most extensive they have ever seen in a game at Springfield, Ill., against Wichita on July 16, 1979. He underwent surgery, was out of the rest of that season, but made a remarkable comeback in time to play in 110 games at Springfield in 1980. He can be classified as a "late bloomer", having spent seven years in the minor leagues following his signing out of Lakeland Junior College at Mattoon, Ill., where he was a junior college all-state player and most valuable on his team. He also was an MVP and all-star with the Fairfield, Ill., American Legion team. He was a 1971 graduate of Effingham, Ill., high school.

Misc. — He and his wife Shelly (Welsh) have two children, Jason Edward (12-8-80) and Tiffany Brea (11-24-82).

JACK ANTHONY CLARK (22)

Outfielder Ht: 6-3 Wt: 205

Bats: Right Throws: Right

Age: 29 Born: 11-10-55 at New Brighton, Pennsylvania

Became Cardinal — Acquired by the Cardinals February 1, 1985 from the San Francisco Giants in exchange for pitcher Dave LaPoint, infielder Jose Gonzalez, and first basemen/outfielders David Green and Gary Rajsich.

M.L. Service — 8.052.

1984 — Clark was off to his best start ever before suffering a cartilage tear in his right knee that put him out for the season on June 26. At the time of his injury Jack was among National League leaders in six offensive categories: .320 average (tied for 3rd), 11 home runs (tied for 7th), 44 RBI (7th), 43 walks (3rd), .537 slugging percentage (2nd) and .434 on-base percentage (2nd). Clark continued to haunt the Pirates beating them on back-to-back nights with a two-run homer in the eighth April 10 and a bases-loaded single in the tenth April 11...Homer gave him 24 against Pittsburgh pitching for his career, his most against any opponent...Registered his 1000th career hit May 5 in St. Louis (single off Bob Forsch)...Jack was named San Francisco's team captain...Giants Player of the Month for May (.382, 6 homers, 20 RBI).

Career Highlights — The 1983 season was filled with highlights for Jack. He hit his 150th career homer off Philadelphia's Willie Hernandez (September 4), went 5-for-5 at Pittsburgh July 22 and hit his fifth career grand slam in Philadelphia May 18...Had 17 assists, tying him with teammate Jeff Leonard for second in the N.L. among outfielders...In '82 led the Giants in homers (27), RBI (103) and runs scored (90)...In '80 Jack led the N.L. in G.W. RBI (18) despite being disabled for over a month after his hand was broken by a Mark Bombach pitch in New York, August 20...In '79 after driving in 25 runs in June, Jack was named to play in his second consecutive All-Star Game...Put together one of his finest all-around seasons in '78 earning him a place on The Sporting News and AP National League All-Star teams...In '77 Jack was named to Baseball Digest's Rookie All-Star Team...Was named Topps Pacific Coast League Player of the Year, in '76...Made his major league debut in 1975 after tying for Texas League home run title with 23...Led California League in '74 with 117 RBI while finishing second in batting (.315)...In 1973, his first pro season, Jack converted from pitching to the outfield.

Misc.— Clark played baseball and basketball at Azusa, California's Gladstone High School...As a senior in 1973 he was 11-3 with a 1.25 ERA and a .517 batting average and led his team to the Hacienda League title...Was San Francisco's 13th pick in the June, 1973 free agent draft...Married (Tamara), November 3, 1979 and the couple has three children, Danika, Rebekah and Anthony...Clark with 65 career G.W. RBI, since the statistic was instituted in 1980, ranks third in the National League behind Keith Hernandez (70), Andre Dawson (67) and tied with Mike Schmidt.

Age: 23 (Turns 24 on September 22)

Born: September 22, 1961 at Jacksonville, Florida

Became Cardinal — Tenth selection in regular phase of June, 1982, free agent draft.

M.L. Service — 0.000.

1984 — With greyhound like speed Coleman is projected as a can't miss prospect. An aggressive player that runs everying out. Vince improved his defensive play and led American Association in runs (97), at-bats (608), and of course stolen bases (101), establishing a new Association record. Selected as an outfielder for 1984 American Association All-Star team...Stole 6 bases in 10 American Association playoff games...Played for Cardinals' entry in the Florida Winter Instructional League and for Mayaguez in Puerto Rican Winter League.

Career Highlights — Vince has run wild on the base paths in his three pro seasons... Stole seven bases in one game in 1982 at Johnson City... Tied for league lead, 1982 Appy League, stolen bases (43)... Led 1983 South Atlantic League, batting (.350), stolen bases (145), tied for 3rd in runs (99) and hits (156). His 145 steals set an all-time pro baseball SB record, he accomplished the feat despite missing 31 games due to injury! Selected on '83 South Atlantic League All-Star team... Voted League's most outstanding major league prospect... Awarded the Howe News Bureau "Star of Stars" award for South Atlantic League. Played for Cardinals' entry in '83 Instructional League, appeared in 38 games with a .325 average and 19 stolen bases.

Misc. — Graduated from Raines High School in Jacksonville, Florida in '78 where he lettered in football and baseball (All-Conference MVP)...Attended Florida A & M College, 1978-82, majoring in Physical Education...Played football and baseball (All-Conference)...In 1981 stole 65 bases to lead Division 1-AA NCAA nationwide.

DANNY BRADFORD COX (34)

Pitcher Ht: 6-4 Wt: 230

Bats: Right Throws: Right

Age: 25 (Turns 26 on September 21)

Born: 9-21-59 at Northhampton, England

Became Cardinals — Signed as the 12th selection in the regular phase of the June, 1981, free agent draft. Signed by Marty Maier.

M.L. Service — 1.036

1984 — On opening day, 1984, Danny Cox pitched in relief for the Cardinals and, after allowing only two hits in four innings, emerged an 11-7 victor. He relieved only once more all season, although that doesn't mean he didn't have problems. After winning a start against Pittsburgh on April 14, Danny hit the skids in a seven-game losing streak, had a one-time attack of a tender shoulder, and was 3-8 when he was optioned to Louisville to straighten things out. After a month and four days at Louisville, where he was 4-1 with a 2.13 ERA and his control problems solved, he returned to St. Louis and was 6-3 in 13 starts the rest of the season. His ERA in his second stint was 3.72 compared to an earlier 4.33. High point of the season for Danny was a 1-0 three-hit shutout of the Montreal Expos on September 19, the only complete game of his major league career to date.

Career Highlights — It took Danny Cox just 15 weeks to pass through every classification in the Cardinals' minor league organization and make it to the majors. He began the 1983 season at St. Louis' extended spring training and made short stops at the A, AA and AAA levels before being called up to St. Louis on August 4 after the Cardinals sold John Martin to Detroit...While at Arkansas, Cox had a string of seven complete games in-a-row, struck out 73, walked only 21 and yielded only 60 hits in 86.1 innings. He was a Texas League All-Star team selection...He started just two games at Louisville before joining the Cardinals at Cooperstown on August 1 where he started and won a 4-1 decision over the Baltimore Orioles (soon to be World Champions) in the Hall of Fame Game. Cox then returned to Louisville but was called up four days later...He drew his first major league start on August 6 when he duelled with Steve Carlton and the Phillies in a game Philadelphia won 1-0 in 11 innings. Cox held the Phillies scoreless for 10 innings before being lifted for a pinch-hitter...He earned his first win on August 12 when he defeated the Houston Astros and Nolan Ryan, 5-2...A big strong pitcher, Cox averaged almost seven innings of work per game and displayed more ability than his 3-6 record would indicate.

He led 1981 Appalachian League pitchers in ERA (2.06), shutouts (4), strikeouts (87), complete games (10) and innings pitched (109)...Pitched a 9-inning no-hit, no-run game August 9, 1981, in beating Bristol 11-0...Was named Appalachian League Player of the Year and was selected as Topps July Appalachian League player of the month...Was selected on the 1981 Appalachian League All-Star team...Was selected on the 1982 Midwest League All-Star team.

Misc. — Cox graduated from Warner Robbins, Georgia, High School in 1977...Played varsity baseball, football and basketball...Attended Chattahoochee Valley (Alabama) J.C. and Troy State University, Troy, Alabama...Majored in General Business...Played baseball and was named to All-American team his senior year...Prior to 1983, the last time the Cardinals played in the Hall of Fame Game (1966), they called up from minors a little-known pitcher named Steve Carlton. He was promoted to the big leagues for good four days after he turned in a 7-5 win over the Twins on July 25, 1966...Ironically, Cox's college baseball coach was Chase Riddle (formerly a Cardinals' scout) who originally helped to sign Carlton to a Cardinal contract.

KENNETH (KEN) GRANT DAYLEY II (46)

Pitcher      Ht: 6-0      Wt: 171
 Bats: Left      Throws: Left
 Age: 26      Born: 2-25-59 at Jerome, Idaho

Became Cardinal — June 15, 1984 along with infielder Mike Jorgensen in a trade with Atlanta for Ken Oberkfell.

M.L. Service — 1,094.

1984 — The year 1984 was a traveling one for Ken Dayley, and a frustrating one at that. He started the year at Atlanta, but after acquiring an 0-3 record in four starts, was sent to Richmond. There he was impressive with a 5-1 mark in 9 appearances and an ERA of 4.04. Traded to the Cardinals, he couldn't seem to get on the right track, and, after 3 appearances (2 starts) he had added two more defeats and no victories to what turned out to be the total of his major league record for the season. Optioned to Louisville, he had a 4-6 record and 3.27 ERA in 13 starts, with 3 complete games. On the plus side, he walked only 22 and struck out 79 in 96.1 innings with the American Association champions. Ken did not join the Cardinals in September after the Louisville season ended because rest was prescribed for a abdominal muscle spasm from which he was suffering.

Career Highlights — Ken Dayley, Atlanta's No. 1 draft choice in the June 1980 draft, won his first five decisions at Richmond, giving him 9 in a row going back into 1982. He then proceeded to lose three in a row, but rebounded with four consecutive complete game wins, including a four-hitter. Dayley's winning percentage at Richmond (.700, 35-15) is tops in that club's history among pitchers with 15 or more victories. After college Dayley went directly to double-A where he fashioned an 8-3 record with a 2.57 ERA and 104 strikeouts in 105 innings.

Misc. — Played baseball and basketball at University of Portland. Was named to The Sporting News All-American Team in 1980...In high school lettered in baseball, basketball and football. Junior year was voted Most Inspirational Player and senior year was Most Valuable Player. Both awards in recognition for basketball ability.

ROBERT (BOB) HERBERT FORSCH (31)

Pitcher                      Ht: 6-3                      Wt: 215
Bats: Right                      Throws: Right
Age: 35                      Born: 1-13-50 at Sacramento, California

Became Cardinal — Selected 38th in the June, 1968, free agent draft signed by scout Bill Sayles.

M.L. Service — 10,099.

1984 — It was a year of pain for Bob Forsch. Troubled by back pains from the beginning, it turned into a lost year for the veteran of the Redbird staff. He had spurts of excellence, but frequently had to leave games early because of the pain. Finally, on June 25, with his record at 1-4 in ten appearances and when less drastic treatment had failed, he underwent surgery to relieve pressure on a decompressed nerve in his lower left back. At that time, doctors said he was out for the season, but were optimistic about future years. However, Forsch applied himself to the rehabilitation program, and was restored to the active list on September 3. He appeared in six games (two starts) before the season ended, and reported freedom from pain. His final month record was 1-1, having scored a victory in relief against Pittsburgh with one inning of relief on September 6. His two 1984 victories gave him 120 for the career, seventh on the all-time Cardinals list (sixth is Harry Brecheen at 127 and 5th is Dizzy Dean at 134). He ranks fifth in career innings pitched by a Cardinal.

Career Highlights — Forsch's 1983 season was almost all peaks and valleys. He fashioned his second career no-hitter but also was knocked out of the starting rotation for the first time in his career. His inconsistency can be seen in the pattern of his decisions. His longest streaks were two 2-game win streaks and a 3-game losing streak. Four of his wins followed immediately by a loss with three others being followed by no-decision starts and then a loss... He allowed 23 home runs in 34 games compared to 16 round-trippers in 36 contests in 1982... Forsch didn't pitch at all for a 10-day period between his start on August 14 and his relief appearance on August 24. He did not start again until September 5, marking the first time in his career he had been assigned to the bullpen for an extended period of time. His no-hitter was recorded on September 26 against Montreal with only 2 batters reaching base - one on an error and another when hit by a pitch.

Forsch was recognized as one of the most consistent pitchers the Cards had in 1982. He tied Joaquin Andujar for the team lead in wins with 15. His victory total exceeded his output for each of the past four years and placed the year second only to his 20-game year in 1977... Reached the 100-victory plateau on June 4 in a complete game, 5-2 win over the Dodgers at home... In a strange turn of events on May 15 in Atlanta, Forsch recorded the first save of his career when he became the eighth Cardinal pitcher to appear in the game and preserved a 7-6 victory for Bruce Sutter... Forsch pitched his best game of the season on October 7 when he shut out the Braves in the opening game of the National League Championship series. He struck out six and gave up only 3 hits in the 7-0 Cardinal win. It was only the third shutout in LCS history.

Ironically, he was the starting pitcher on both "opening days" of the 1981 season for the Cards; losing the first "opener" to Philadelphia on April 11 and winning the second-half "opener" against the same team on August 10... His fielding percentage was a perfect 1.000 in 34 chances.

Finished 1980 with 11 wins (for the third straight season) and lost fewer games than either of his previous two seasons. Missed starts because of physical problems including a spiked heel, blisters and a tender shoulder... Recorded an 11-11 mark in 1979 but had an outstanding second half of the season, winning 7 of his last 8 decisions and allowing only 1 home run in his last 61.2 innings.

1978 was a bad year for Bob as he lost nine in a row at one stretch, even though he started the season with a bang by throwing a 5-0 no-hit game vs. Philadelphia on April 16 at home... His best season as a Cardinal was 1977 when he fought off leg and back injuries to become the Cardinals' first 20-game winner since 1971 and first righthander to win 20 since 1970. Won five straight games during one stretch and had a 1.70 ERA during the streak... Experienced weird 1976 campaign. Had no decisions in his first five starts, and just one in his first ten...Was the top Cardinal starter in winning percentage and ERA in 1975...In 1974, he won 7 of 11 decisions. Was called up in September 1973, but did not appear in any games.

Awards — Named to the Sporting News National League Silver Bat team for the 1980 season...Member of the National League All-Star team which toured Japan in November of 1979.

Misc. — He and his brother Ken (Angels) are first brother combination in baseball history to pitch no-hitters...In his first year in pro ball (1968) he was a Gulf Coast League All-Star third baseman for Sarasota. He turned to pitching with a mound appearance at Cedar Rapids in 1970. He recorded an 11-7 record and 3.13 ERA in 1971, his first full year on the mound...He graduated from Hiram W. Johnson High School in Sacramento where he played two years of varsity basketball and was named MVP his senior year. In baseball he was All-City as well as MVP that year. He attended Sacramento City College...He and his wife, Mollie (Kneen) have two daughters, Amy Lynn, born in January of 1976 and Kristin Rae, born in November of 1978...The highlight of his career, according to Forsch, was the first time he wore a major league uniform on September 2, 1973 in New York's Shea Stadium.

KEVIN HAGEN (35)

Pitcher                      Ht: 6-2                      Wt: 185
Bats: Right                      Throws: Right
Age: 25                      Born: 3-8-60 at Renton, Washington

Became Cardinal — Selected 4th by the Cardinals in the January 1980 free agent draft. Signed by scouts Bill Sayles and Eddie Taylor.

M.L. Service — 0.047.

1984 — Kevin Hagen tied Steve Baker for the most victories on the 1984 Louisville Redbirds, when both had a record of 10-9. Each also had a victory in the playoffs in which Louisville, a fourth-place finisher, won the American Association championship. Hagen had a 1.29 ERA in two playoff appearances and a 3.46 mark in the regular season. At times, Hagen must have thought he was his own best defense - he led American Association pitchers in total chances (75), assists (43), putouts (28) and double plays (7). Joining the Cardinals late in September, he made four good relief appearances - two runs, nine hits, one walk in 7.1 innings. He scored a victory with two scoreless innings against Montreal on September 25.

Career Highlights — Hagen spent most of 1983 pitching for Louisville, but was called up to St. Louis on June 4 for a brief stay with the big club while Jeff Lahti was on the disabled list. He made his major league debut on June 4 when he worked 0.1 innings in relief against the Atlanta Braves. Each of Hagen's first 5 appearances in Cardinal uniform were in relief. Before that, he had only worked out of the bullpen three times in 93 career minor league games...Hagen got his first start on June 20 in New York. He pitched 7 innings in a 3-1 Cardinal victory. His first big league win came June 15 in one inning of scoreless relief against the Phillies, 7-6 in St. Louis. Hagen's eight complete games at Louisville tied him for second in the league in that category.

Spent 1982 at the AA level for the second year in a row. Led the Travellers in strikeouts with 102. Put together six complete games in 27 starts...Was the only member of the Arkansas team to be selected on the 1982 Texas League All-Star Team.

Had an off year in 1981, posting an 8-11 record and striking out only 69. Led the Texas League in hit batsmen (9)...Won 14 of 22 games in 1980 and struck out 104 batters in 117 innings pitched.

Misc. — Attended Bellevue Community College in Bellevue, Wash. for one year and lettered in baseball and basketball...Graduated from Auburn, Washington, High School in 1978 where he lettered in baseball, football and basketball...Plays trumpet, trombone and piano.

Age: 33 Born: 10-18-51 at Texas City, Texas

Became Cardinal — Signed as free agent May 2, 1984, by Cardinals' AA Arkansas Club following his release in April by California Angels. Purchased by St. Louis from Louisville, September 16, 1984.

M.L. Service — 10.022.

1984 — It was a turn around year for Andy Hassler. It started badly with his release toward the end of spring training by the California Angels, but ended happily with him finishing the season back in the big leagues with the Cardinals. After his release, the Redbird organization signed him and placed him at Arkansas. In a short time there, he was 1-1 with 3 saves, and then went to Louisville, where he had an outstanding ERA of 2.11 with 10 saves and a 7-4 won-lost record. Promoted to the Cardinals for the last half of September, he appeared three times, and recorded an 8-7 victory over Pittsburgh in his first appearance.

Career Highlights — California's top lefthanded relief pitcher of 1982 found 1983 rough going...Failed to record a win for the first time since 1973 when he was 0-3 for the Angels...In 25 of his 42 outings, pitched less than one complete inning. Seldom used by Pittsburgh in 1980, Hassler rejoined the Angel organization on June 10 and compiled his finest major league campaign...From June 18 to end of season, posted a 5-1 record, a club-leading 10 saves and a 1.82 ERA (79 IP, 16 ER)...In final seven outings recorded a victory and five saves...Didn't allow an earned run in final nine appearances of season.

Has played for six major league clubs including two stints with the Angels...Originally signed by California in 1970...His 2.61 ERA in 162 innings pitched ranked third in the A.L. in 1974...From May 4, 1975 to July 2, 1976 lost a club record 17 consecutive decisions...As a starter, owns a pair of one-hitters -September 8, 1974 vs. Chicago (Jim Kaat), a 1-0 loss and July 2, 1977 at Cleveland (Dennis Eckersley), a 1-0 triumph while a member of the Royals.

Misc. — Graduated from Palo Verde (Tucson) in 1969...Pitched two no-hitters and struck out 19 batters in one game (11 in a row)...Received All-Arizona Class 3-A honorable mention during senior year and played in state's North-South all-star game...made major league debut at Yankee Stadium June 8, 1971, but was not involved in decision of 7-4 loss...Won first career game in Texas, June 23, 1974, 10-2. Married Debra Wines (2-10-73). They have two children, Drew and Derek.

THOMAS (TOM) MITCHELL HERR (28)

Infielder Ht: 6-0 Wt: 185

Bats: Both Throws: Right

Age: 28 (Turns 29 on April 4)

Born: 4-4-56 at Lancaster, Pennsylvania

Became Cardinal — August 2, 1974...Signed as a free agent
by scout Tim Thompson.

M.L. Service — 5.015.

1984 — A very important season for Tommy Herr...His 144 starts at second base proved that his often injured knees could hold up to the wear and tear of a full season...In the process Herr established career highs in games (145), at-bats (558), hits (154), doubles (23), home runs (4) and RBI (49)...His numbers would have been even more impressive if not for a torn muscle in the left side, that prematurely ended his season 9/15...At the time of the injury Tommy was streaking, batting .411 for the month of September...Herr continued to be regarded as one of the top fielding second basemen in the National League, topping N.L. 2nd sackers in double plays (106) and barely being edged out by Ryne Sandberg for fielding pct. honors .993-.992...Had 42 multiple hit games including two 4-hit games, 5/1 at Pittsburgh and 8/23 at Houston...Hit his first career homer from the right side of the plate, 5/18 vs. Cincinnati, off Joe Price.

Career Highlights — For Tommy Herr, 1983 turned into a nightmare as he was operated on three times in less than a year. His problems began in 1982, but Herr was able to wait until after the World Series before undergoing arthroscopic surgery on his right knee to repair damaged cartilage in November, 1982. That knee, healthy again, he hurt his left knee while working on a Cybex machine in spring training, 1983, and began the season on the disabled list after having arthroscopic surgery on March 25. He was activated on April 18 after playing three games without pain while on the medical rehabilitation list in Arkansas. Tommy played well for the Cardinals from that point on but the wear and tear of the season caused irritation in his left knee and on August 9 he was placed on the 21-day disabled list. An arthrogram showed significant damage to the cartilage both inside and outside of the knee and he underwent surgery again on August 17. Dr. Lanny Johnson removed cartilage from the inside of the knee and repaired cartilage on the outside of the knee. Herr's off-season rehabilitation program included a six week recuperation with the leg in a cast and subsequent exercise by swimming and bike riding...Prior to being sidelined in August, Herr was a league leader with a .323 average and had hit in 10 of his last eleven games (23-46, .500). After 1,161 major league at-bats, Herr slugged his first big league home run on May 10 against the Giants in San Francisco. Six games later he hit another one, this time against Houston in St. Louis.

In his second full season in the majors, 1982, Herr played like an all-star. Defensively, he was quick and agile and turned the double play with ease...Over his first two seasons at second base he committed only 14 errors, the lowest figure in the National League. At the plate he's equally as steady. Except for a three game period at the start of 1982, Herr had not gone more than two games without getting a hit in 1981 or 1982...Herr was second on the 1982 team in runs scored and stolen bases although slowed by injury. He pulled a quadriceps muscle sliding into home on May 13 and missed numerous games in the following month while the injury lingered. It was the first time he had missed any games since the 1980 season. On April 17 he took part in two double steals, including a steal of home which marked the third career theft of home for Herr...Set a World Series record in Game 4 when two runners scored on Herr's long sacrifice fly...In 1981 Herr fulfilled Whitey Herzog's faith in him after he traded third baseman Ken Reitz in 1980 and moved the Redbird second baseman, Ken Oberkfell, to third base to open up a spot for Tommy. He made only 5 errors in 590 total chances (.992 fielding percentage) and took part in 74 double plays. That fielding percentage was the best ever recorded in a season by a Cardinal second baseman. Herr was the only Cardinal player to start each of St. Louis' 103 games. His nine triples were enough to place him third in the league in that category. He led the Cardinals in at-bats, triples, sacrifices and stolen bases.

In 1980, after hitting only .163 in the first two months of the season, he was optioned to Springfield on June 21. Recalled in August for 11 days (August 2-12) he batted .281, and in September, when he again joined the St. Louis club, he was .86-.29, .337.

Opened the 1979 season at Springfield of the American Association. Batted .293. Led the Springfield club in triples, and had 48 RBI. Showed great speed - stole 29 bases in 1979, 30 bases in 1978 and led Florida State League with 50 in 1977. Recalled from Springfield on August 10, 1979. Used primarily as a pinch-runner. First major league appearance was as pinch-runner for Ken Reitz in game of August 13 and he scored the winning run for the Cards' 3-2 victory. Grounded out in his first major league at-bat vs. Dodgers' Bobby Castillo in August 16 game. On August 31 singled off veteran Mickey Lolich 2nd official at-bat for first major league hit. Was spiked by Mets' Richie Hebner on force play at second base in 1st game of doubleheader on September 22 and was out for the remainder of the season.

Hit .303 at St. Petersburg in 1977 with league-leading totals of 515 at-bats, 80 runs, 156 hits and 50 stolen bases...Finished fourth in the league in batting average...Named as all-league second baseman in 1973 and all-league shortstop in 1974 during final two years at Hempfield High School in Landisville, Pa...Named as MVP in All-East Pa. All-Star game and Eastern Pa. Regional Championship...selected on 1978 Texas League All-star team.

Awards — Named as all-league second baseman in 1973 and all-league shortstop in 1974 during final two years at Hempfield High School in Landisville, Pa...Named as MVP in All-East PA All-Star game and Eastern PA Regional Championship...Selected on 1978 Texas League All-Star team.

Misc.— Tommy earned 11 high school letters in four sports. He and his wife, Kim, were married on January 7, 1978. They live in Denver, Pennsylvania, with their son Aaron who was born on March 7, 1981. Pronounces his last name like the opposite of him.

RICK NEAL HORTON (49)

Pitcher                      Ht: 6-2                      Wt: 195
Bats: Left                      Throws: Left
Age: 25 (Turns 26 on July 30)
Born: 7-30-59 at Poughkeepsie, New York

Became Cardinal — Selected 4th by the Cardinals in the June, 1980, free agent draft. Signed by scouts Roland Johnson and Tim Thompson.

M.L. Service — 1,000.

1984 — In the spring of 1984 the question about Rick Horton was, would he or wouldn't he make the club. In 1985, it's will he start or relieve. No one can say he hasn't plenty of experience at both. Last year, for example, he relieved in his first 15 appearances, started in his next 15. He finished the season with 18 starts, 19 appearances in relief. Immediately before his first start, a 7-2 victory at Philadelphia on June 12, Rick had allowed only one run and 13 hits in 12 appearances covering 20.1 innings. As a reliever he was 1-0, as a starter 8-4. His only complete game was a shutout over the San Diego Padres on June 29, a two-hitter with the first hit coming with two out in the eighth inning. He relies on control, a sinking fastball and a good pickoff move to first base.

Career Highlights — Horton had his best year in the minors in 1983. He recorded more wins appeared in more games, and threw more innings than he had in any of three previous years in the minor leagues. Won more games in 1982 for Arkansas than he ever had in his minor league career with nine victories in 16 games...Was called up to Louisville late in the season and started six of the eight games in which he appeared. On July 28, 1980 he pitched a no-hit, no-run game as Gastonia defeated Charleston, 4-0. Horton relieved after two were out in the first inning and completed the no-hitter in the 7-inning nightcap of a doubleheader...Attended Virginia University and lettered in baseball 1978-80. Selected second-team All-ACC in 1980...Was drafted by the San Francisco Giants in 1977 but did not sign. Graduated from Roosevelt (Hyde Park, N.Y.) High School in 1977.

Misc. — Horton played for the Escogido team in winter ball in the Dominican Republic in 1983-84. He was a hit there, not only in terms of performance, but also because he was always willing to do interviews. That's not too unusual except for the fact that Horton conducted all of his interviews in Spanish, a language he speaks fluently...Horton played in a Senior League State Tournament (New York) as a teenager and his team defeated Dave LaPoint's team in the semi-finals...Married the former Ann Fleming on January 22, 1983.

ARTHUR (ART) HENRY HOWE, JR. (7)

Infielder      Ht: 6-1      Wt: 185

Bats: Right      Throws: Right

Age: 38      Born: 12-15-46 at Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania

Became Cardinal — Signed as free agent, March 21, 1984. After spending the first part of spring training as a non-roster invitee at Chicago White Sox training camp.

M.L. Service — 9,170.

1984 — Howe became a free agent after the 1983 season but did not sign a contract. He reported to spring training as a non-roster invitee with the Chicago White Sox but signed with the Cardinals when he was offered a spot on the major league roster. Art appeared mostly as a pinch-hitter and reserve infielder in '84...He batted .286 as a pinch-hitter going 6-for-21 on the season, including 3 hits in 4 assignments against New York...Howe was called on to start 30 games (3-1B, 27-3B), and showed that he was an able replacement at either position...Howe teamed with Darrell Porter for back-to-back homers off Montreal's Dave Palmer, 9/27...At 38, Art is the elder statesman on the Cardinals '85 roster.

Career Highlights — Howe spent the entire 1983 season on the disabled list recovering from surgery on both his left ankle and his right elbow. Late in the 1982 season Howe had experienced trouble throwing. A subsequent examination in early December found bone chips and also prompted a decision to relocate the ulna nerve interiorly on his right elbow. Surgery was performed by Dr. Harold Brelsford of Houston on December 7, 1982. The procedure was repeated on May 25, 1983 when the elbow continued to bother him. At that time Brelsford also corrected a problem Howe had with the tendon sheath in his left ankle. Howe had undergone successful surgery for the same condition (achilles tenosynovitis) in his right ankle in the fall of 1982...Howe began the 1982 season as the Astros' starting first baseman, but on May 11 he severely pulled his left hamstring and was shelved until June 19. When he rejoined the club he was switched to third base in order to cut down the amount of stretching and avoid further injury. On the season he played 35 games at first and 72 contests at third. Howe's .238 average was his lowest in six years. Howe enjoyed his best season in 1981 when he hit .296 for the Astros. He led the National League in hitting for most of May and was in the top 10 until the final two weeks of the season...Howe ran off a club record 23-game hitting streak May 1-24, 1981. Also had a 5-RBI and a two home run game in 1981. Underwent surgery on his right ankle following the end of the 1981 season. Hampered by injuries through much of 1980 and 1981 including several severe hamstring pulls, a broken finger, beaming, head and neck injuries and a fractured jaw from being hit on the left side of the face by Scott Sanderson at Montreal on May 7, 1980. Howe missed less than a week due to the jaw as he played with a wired jaw and special protective helmet...He singled in his first major league at-bat on June 10, 1974 off Atlanti's Carl Morton.

Misc. — Has been a very successful manager in Puerto Rico during the winter, managing at Bayamon in 1979-80-82 and was the Manager of the Year in 1980...Howe graduated from Shaler High School in Glenshaw, Pennsylvania. He attended the University of Wyoming and played baseball and football (quarterback) before a back injury forced him out of football. Howe was working for Westinghouse as a computer programmer when a friend talked him into attending a Pittsburgh tryout camp in 1971 and he went on to sign a pro contract...Howe and his wife Betty have three children, Stephanie, Gretchen and Matthews.

KURT D. KEPSHIRE (50)

Pitcher Ht: 6-1 Wt: 180
Bats: Left Throws: Right
Age: 25 (Turns 26 on July 3)
Born: 7-3-59 at Bridgeport, Connecticut

Became Cardinal — Drafted from the Cincinnati Reds' Indianapolis club on 12-6-82. Was originally the Reds' 25th selection in the regular phase of the June, 1979, free agent draft.

M.L. Service — 0.091.

1984 — Whitey Herzog challenged Kurt Kephire in a late spring training start by handing him the ball and telling him he'd go North with the club if he showed the manager something extra. Kurt was just a bit short that day, but he did make it to St. Louis by June 30, after a 7-5 mark at Louisville, striking out 85 in 107.2 innings. With the Cardinals, he quickly fit into the scheme of things, winning his first start, 5-1, at Candlestick Park in San Francisco. Relying mainly on a fast ball in the 90 m.p.h. range, Kephire was consistent the rest of the season, and finished with a flourish - shutting out the Chicago Cubs, 8-0, on September 21 and the Expos at Montreal on September 26, 5-0, for his only two complete games. Kephire had spent most of his minor league career before coming to the Cardinals as a reliever, with only 37 starts and 75 relief appearances prior to his first appearance in St. Louis.

Career Highlights — To send Kephshire to the minor leagues, the Cardinals first had to have permission from the Cincinnati Reds from whom he had been drafted. To get such permission, the Cardinals sent infielder Kelly Paris to the Reds. In his first year in the Cardinal organization, Kephshire played at both the AA and AAA levels. He began the year at Arkansas but was promoted to Louisville after posting a 3-2 record with four saves in 19 appearances. At Louisville, Kephshire was put in the starting rotation for the first time since the 1981 season when he started three of the 39 games in which he appeared. Started 1982 year at the A level but turned in consistently impressive performances in recording a 2.18 ERA, the second lowest of his career, and was promoted to the AA level. At Waterbury he was credited with 9 saves, the most of his career. He finished the season by appearing in five games at Indianapolis (AAA). His best year in terms of victories came in 1981 when Kephshire notched 7 victories and 3 saves in 39 appearances. In 1980, he posted a 2.00 ERA over 29 games.

Misc. — Graduated from Central High School, Bridgeport, Conn., in 1978. Lettered in baseball and football...Named to New York Daily News all-star team, and was recipient of the State Coaches' Award in 1978 en route to helping lead Central to the state championship...Attended University of New Haven (Conn.).

JEFF LAHTI (32)

Bats: Right      Throws: Right
Age: 28 (Turns 29 on October 8)
Born: 10-8-56 at Oregon City, Oregon

Became Cardinal — April 1, 1982 along with pitcher Jose Brito in a trade with Cincinnati for Bob Shirley.

M.L. Service — 2,100.

1984 — Jeff Lahti is regarded by Whitey Herzog as his "jam" man. In other words, most of the time Lahti comes into the game he is faced with a runner-on and none or one out situation. The frequency with which he gets the double play or a strikeout has caused Whitey to rely on him heavily. Unfortunately with Bruce Sutter on the team, Jeff hasn't had many "save" opportunities and it wasn't until July 4, 1984, at San Francisco that he earned one. It came in his 116th game in the major leagues. From May 22 to June 8, he pitched 10.1 innings in nine appearances, allowing only two hits and no runs.

Career Highlights — In 1983, Lahti's ERA of 3.16 was the lowest among the Cardinals' relief corps. He allowed only 15 men to score of the 54 who were on base when he entered a game...During one stretch in September he was touched for only three earned runs in 16 games for a 1.07 ERA over 25.1 innings pitched. Earlier in the season, Lahti also had a skein of 16 innings which he allowed only one earned run for a 0.56 ERA...Jeff was placed on the 21-day disabled list on May 31 with a painfully inflamed right shoulder. He returned to active duty on June 22. When Lahti was informed on April Fool's Day, 1982, that he had been traded he wondered whether it was a joke. Outrighted to Louisville when he was acquired, he appeared in 21 games for the Cardinals' AAA affiliate, going 3-2 with 2 saves and a 4.22 ERA. In 32-1/3 innings pitched he gave up only 29 hits and eight walks while striking out 19...Lahti was called up to St. Louis on June 26 when Mark Littell was designated for assignment. He provided solid relief help and showed an ability to appear in both short and long situations, even getting a starting assignment on September 7 vs. Montreal...He picked up his first major league win on July 16 in a 3.1 inning appearance in a 6-4 St. Louis victory over his former teammates. Was Indianapolis' top relief pitcher in 1981 when he won six games and saved five others in 50 games...He had 12 saves to rank among leaders in the Eastern League with Waterbury in 1980...In 1979 he was the MVP of his Greensboro team when he led the Western Carolinas League with 13 saves.

Misc. — Jeff in 1975 was named All-State in baseball while at Hood River Valley High School...Played collegiate baseball at Treasure Valley Community College and Portland State University.

Age: 30      Born: 10-25-54 at Joplin, Missouri

Became Cardinal — Acquired in a March 25 trade with the Baltimore Orioles organization in exchange for pitcher Jose Brito and cash considerations.

M.L. Service — 3,097.

1984 — A versatile utility player who is beginning to see more playing time as his career progresses. Landrum excels as a late inning defensive replacement, and has committed only 3 errors in his 5-year big league career. He made his first error on 9/28/80 and had flawlessly handled 193 straight chances until his second misque came 6/13, this year at Philadelphia...Tito once again in '84 proved he was a clutch late inning hitter breaking up a ninth inning 1-1 game with an RBI single against New York, 6/1 and sending the Cardinals home winners with a 10th inning two-run homer, 7/30...As a pinch-hitter, Tito hit .391 (9-for-23), 2nd best in the league...Landrum also posted career highs in games, at-bats, runs, hits, doubles and RBI.

Career Highlights — Based on his experience in 1983, Landrum could probably work as a knowledgeable travel agent in his spare time. While not exactly going around the world in 80 days, his travels left Landrum wondering whether to unpack or not. He began the season in St. Louis but was assigned outright to Louisville on April 29 along with Gene Roof when Willie McGee and Tommy Herr came off the disabled list. Landrum led the American Association with a career high 12 triples, paced the Redbirds in slugging (.527) and also established lifetime milestones in runs (79), HR (18) and RBI (77). Tito was then traded to Baltimore Orioles on August 31, to complete a June 13 deal that sent infielder Floyd Rayford from Baltimore to St. Louis.

Tito spent only 33 days of the regular 1983 season with the O's, appearing in 26 games as a reserve outfielder (four starts), pinch-hitter and pinch-runner. He was on the Orioles' 25-man championship roster, however, qualifying for post-season play and earning his second consecutive World Series ring...Tito played in all 4 League Championship Series games, starting games #2 and #4, and will always be remembered as the man whose 10th inning home run off Britt Burns in game #4 broke a 0-0 tie and brought the Orioles their 6th American League pennant with a subsequent 3-0 win. He appeared in three World Series games as a pinch-runner and defensive replacement.

In 1982 Tito served the Cardinals well in his multiple roles as a pinch-hitter, pinch-runner, occasional starter, reserve outfielder and defensive replacement. He exploded on the Cardinals' first West Coast swing of the year in May by going 12-22 with two home runs (the first of his major league career) and eight RBI...He was optioned to Louisville on August 5 when Green was brought up, but joined the big club again on September 1. Landrum earned a World Series ring because of his contributions to the success of the team but was not on the 25-man championship roster and did not play in the LCS or World Series.

In 1981 Landrum was the only Redbird outfielder with 20 or more chances to perform flawlessly in the field. He earned a shot at the big leagues with a superior performance at Springfield during the first half of the 1980 season. He came to the Cardinals on July 22, pinch-hit unsuccessfully on July 23 vs. Los Angeles. In his first major league start on July 25 vs. San Diego he went 4-for-5. His first hit was a double against Randy Jones...Had nine straight hits in his first professional season at Orangeburg.

Misc. — Spent 7-plus years in the minors before making it to the Cardinals in 1980...Was state batting champion in the New Mexico Babe Ruth League with .450 average despite never playing for his high school (Highland of Albuquerque, NM). He attended Eastern Oklahoma State Junior College for two years...Has worked as a model in his spare time...Played winter ball in Venezuela 1982-83...He and his wife Theresa have two children, Melissa (2/17/81) and Julie (2/24/83).

CARDINAL HOME RUNS

The Cardinals hit fewer home runs (75) in 1984 than any National League team. It was the third year in a row the team finished in 12th place in the standings...The 1901 Cardinals led the league in home runs for the first time with 39 round-trippers. In their long history the Cardinals have led the league in homers only five times.

LCS RECORD HOLDERS

The Cardinals' .330 batting average against the Braves in the 1982 League Championship Series set a National League record for a three-game series...The Redbirds also set a record for fewest hits allowed (15) in a three-game series...It was the first time the Cardinals had participated in the LCS since it was instituted in 1969.

WILLIAM LOZADO (5)

Bats: Right Throws: Right

Age: 25 (Turns 26 on May 12)

Born: 5-12-59 at Bayamon, Puerto Rico

Became Cardinal — December 3, 1984, drafted from Milwaukee's AAA Vancouver club.

M.L. Service — 0.081.

1984 — Split season between Milwaukee and Triple A Denver, where he was the everyday shortstop...After a fast start at Denver, batting .361 in April and .305 in May, Willie gained promotion to the big leagues early in July appearing in 43 games as a utility infielder for the Brewers...Primarily a shortstop throughout his career, Lozado filled the Brewers gap at third playing in 36 games there...A 3-for-5 performance with 5 RBI on 5/20 led to Willie's being named American Association Player of the Week, May 14-20.

Career Highlights — Played for Indianapolis in '83 while on loan to the Cincinnati Reds' organization...Selected as shortstop on the 1981 Texas League All-Star team. Fresh from signing his first pro contract in '79, Lozado led the Midwest League in games (136) and at-bats (525).

Misc. — Played in the Puerto Rican winter league this past off-season.

WILLIE DEAN McGEE (51)

Outfielder      Ht: 6-1      Wt: 175

Bats: Both      Throws: Right

Age: 26      Born: 11-2-58 at San Francisco, California

Became Cardinal — October 21, 1981 from New York Yankees' organization in exchange for the contract of pitcher Bob Sykes.

M.L. Service — 2,148.

1984 — One of the fastest players in the game, switch-hitting Willie McGee is swiftly establishing himself as one of the new breed of stars, that can do it all with their speed. The gifted centerfielder led the club in 5 offensive categories - average, at-bats, runs, hits and triples. Willie had a club high 50 multiple hit games, including a career high 5-hit game 9/5 vs. Philadelphia...When he hit for the cycle 6/23 at Chicago, he became the first National Leaguer to accomplish the feat since Mike Easler did it in 1980 while with the Pirates and the first Cardinal to do so since Lou Brock on 5/27/75...In the game, Willie also had a personal high 6 RBI...McGee finished 9th in the league in stolen bases (43) and 4th in triples (11)...Placed on the 15-day disabled list 7/17, retroactive to 7/12, with a torn right hamstring. Willie returned showing no ill effects and batting over .300 the last 3 months of the season...One of the leaders of a late Cardinal surge, McGee hit in 21 of his last 26 games (38-for-108, .351)...37 of Willie's 166 hits were infield hits (22%)...Had multiple steal games 5 times.

Career Highlights — The multi-talented centerfielder was elected to play on The National League's All-Star Team and also earned a Gold Glove in 1983, only his second year in the majors (his first full year). He led the Cardinals in hits and at-bats; was second in runs, triples RBI, GW-RBI and stolen bases, and was third in games played...McGee's 19 game batting streak (33-81, .407) was the longest by a Cardinal since Ted Simmons hit 19 straight in 1975 (team record is 30 by Stan Musial in 1950)...At one point he was successful on 17 consecutive steals...McGee picked up his second career inside-the-park home run on May 15 against Montreal...McGee started the 1983 season on the disabled list with a slight separation of his right shoulder after he ran into the wall while chasing a fly ball at Al Lang Stadium during a March 28 inter-squad game. He was activated on April 18.

McGee was called up from Louisville to replace injured David Green in May of 1982 and surprised many by earning the starter's role in centerfield. Batting only .291 at Louisville in his first year at AAA level, he proceeded to storm the big leagues by hitting in the .300 area all season. His .296 final average was the highest mark posted by a rookie in the National League. McGee led the Cardinals in triples and tied for the lead in pinch-hits. His overall performance had the upstart McGee under consideration for Rookie of the Year honors. He finished third in the league's competition in the area and was named to the Topp's Chewing Gum All-Rookie team...His first major league home run was a grand slam against the Braves on July 20 at Busch Stadium...Notched an inside-the-park home run on September 26 in Montreal. McGee made his presence known to the world in Game 3 of the World Series when he connected for his first hit of the Series, a three-run homer. He hit a second home run later in the game to set a World Series record for home runs by a rookie in one game. He also made two spectacular leaping catches to rob the Brewers of home runs in the game... McGee tied a World Series record for outfielders with 24 putouts in the Series. He also set a record for the highest fielding average in a 7-game series with most chances accepted. He handled 24 chances flawlessly. Established L.C.S. record for triples, with 2 in 3 game 1982 playoffs... McGee came on strong in 1981 with a .322 performance in Double-A baseball, third highest average in the Southern League, and drew praise from baseball critics for his speed and defensive play also. He was the Yankee's No. 1 choice in the secondary phase of the January, 1977 free agent draft. He was a member of the California championship team at Diablo Valley Junior College, and played amateur baseball also in the Little League, Babe Ruth and American Legion programs.

Awards — McGee made the Topps Chewing Gum All-Rookie team in 1982 and was named the St. Louis BBWAA Rookie of the Year that same year... McGee played in the 1983 All-Star Game for the National League. He earned The Sporting News Gold Glove in 1983.

Misc. — McGee is one of six children in his family... McGee's father is a Deacon in the Pentecostal Church and each year he anoints McGee's hands and feet with sacred oil and blesses them to keep them from injury.

THOMAS A. NIETO (23)

Catcher Ht: 6-1 Wt: 193

Bats: Right Throws: Right

Age: 24 Born: 10-27-60 at Downey, California

Became Cardinal — Cardinals second selection in the regular phase of the June, 1981, free agent draft.

M.L. Service — 0.087.

1984 — Nieto made impressive showings in his two stints with the Cardinals in '84. Recalled from Louisville, Nieto made his big league debut May 10 in grand fashion with a two-run double off the Padres' Floyd Chiffer. The next night, Tom connected for his first career home run, a two-run shot off Cincinnati's Jeff Russell...Did the job for the Cardinals defensively, starting 28 games at catcher. ## RICHARD (RICK) WAYNE OWNBEY (40)

Pitcher                      Ht: 6-3                      Wt: 185
Bats: Right                      Throws: Right
Age: 27 (Turns 28 on October 20)
Born: 10-20-57 at Corona, California

Became Cardinal — Acquired June 15, 1983 along with pitcher Neil Allen from the New York Mets in a trade for first baseman Keith Hernandez. Originally was the Mets' 13th selection in the June, 1980 draft. Signed by Roger Jongewaard.

M.L. Service — 0.154

1984 — It was a difficult year for Ownbey, whose troubles began when he pulled a hamstring muscle that limited his work during spring training, and led to his being optioned to Louisville, where he promptly went on the disabled list with a sore shoulder. He recovered and was off the disabled list only two weeks when he reinjured his hamstring. Eventually he got to pitch enough (7 starts) to compile a 2-3 record and was brought up to the Cardinals on July 3. However, he appeared to still be suffering from residual effects of his hamstring pull, and lost the two games he started before he was returned to Louisville. He wound up with a 6-6 record there with 111 strikeouts in 96.1 innings, including winning the regular season's final game, a 3-0 shutout over Wichita in which he struck out 11. That game was a playoff to determine the fourth-place finisher and a spot in the post-season championship playoffs. Starting from that point, Louisville went on to win the title, with Ownbey starting twice without a decision.

Career Highlights — Ownbey began 1983 with the New York Mets but struggled with his control. In ten games there he was 1-3 with a 4.67 ERA and found himself working out of the bullpen for the first time in his pro baseball career. He was traded to the Cardinals on June 15 and immediately optioned to Louisville. There he returned to his familiar role as a starter. Inconsistent at first, Ownbey settled down towards the end of the season. He finished strongly and pitched well in several games important to the Redbirds' play-off hopes. Ownbey was slated to be called up to St. Louis after Louisville's season had ended, but he incurred a slight shoulder strain in the last play-off game he pitched and was deemed unavailable for further immediate action.

In 1982 he was recalled from Tidewater of the International League on August 14th...Appeared in eight games for the Mets, all starts...Made his major league debut against the Reds in Cincinnati on August 17...Went five innings and allowed five earned runs on six hits and lost, 9-2...Was the only Mets' pitcher to turn in back-to-back complete games for the year as he went the distance against the Reds on September 3 in a 1-0 loss and then earned his first major league victory, 9-1, over the Pirates on September 8...Opponents only hit .183 against him at home, the top mark in the league for a pitcher who faced 200 or more batters...Teams also only compiled a .209 batting average against him with runners on base. Placed fourth in the International League in ERA with a 3.35 mark...Was second in the league in strikeouts with 122 in 150.1 innings...Lost two no-hitters in the ninth during the year.

In 1981, he helped lead Jackson to the Texas League (AA) Championship...Posted a 10-7 record and finished among league leaders in strikeouts with 125 in 133 innings...Also came in third in the Texas League in ERA with a 2.77 mark...Named the starting pitcher in the annual mid-summer Texas League All-Star game...Was outstanding in the playoffs...Hurled two complete game victories and allowed one run and five hits and struck out 22 batters in 18 innings.

Misc. — Ownbey was born in Corona, CA. He played sophomore and junior varsity ball at Savannah High School in Anaheim but never made the varsity team...Enrolled at Santa Ana Junior College and was 4-3 there in 1979...Drafted by the Pirates in the fourth round of the winter draft in 1979. He elected to stay in school. In 1980 at Santa Ana, Rick was 11-2...Throws "over the top", reminiscent of the Orioles' Jim Palmer...Utilizes a fork ball as a change up and has a good fastball and slider. Nicknamed "O'".

TERRY LEE PENDLETON (9)

Infielder      Ht: 5-9      Wt: 180
 Bats: Both      Throws: Right
 Age: 24 (Turns 25 on July 16)
 Born: 7-16-60 at Los Angeles, California

Became Cardinal — Seventh selection in regular phase of June, 1982, free agent draft.

M.L. Service — 0.075.

1984 — Pendleton came on the St. Louis baseball scene with a big bang after his purchase from Louisville (AAA), on July 18, going 3-for-5 in his big league debut that night vs. San Francisco. He made 65 straight starts at third base and compiled a .324 batting average, the 11th best mark by a Red Bird rookie...Terry had 24 multiple hit games including two 4 hit games, July 27 at Pittsburgh and September 20 vs. Montreal...Posted Cardinals longest hitting streak of the season, hitting safely in 14 straight, 8/31-9/12...Earned N.L. Player of the Week, July 30-August 5, when he hit .444 (12-27), scored 6 runs, had 4 RBI and stole 4 bases in 4 attempts...Became Cardinals fifth player to steal 20 bases in 1984 when he stole his 20th on the final day of the season at Chicago...Hit first M.L. home run off Cincinnati's Mario Soto on August 22...Played in the Puerto Rican Winter League for Cardinal coach Nick Leyva's Mayaguez team.

Career Highlights — Pendleton was sidelined much of the '83 season with a fractured right wrist...Selected to Texas League All-Star team in '83...Split the '82 season between Johnson City and St. Petersburg. Earned quick promotion that season with a .320 average and 22 extra base hits among his 58 safeties...Compiled a minor league career average of .294 (225-765).

Misc. — Graduated from Channel Island High School, Oxnard, Calif., in 1978 where he lettered in baseball (All-League, MVP, All-C.I.F., Southern Sect.), football and basketball. Attended Oxnard J.C. for two years and Fresno State University for two years, majoring in Physical Education.

WILLIAM PATRICK PERRY (37)

Pitcher                      Ht: 6-1                      Wt: 170
Bats: Left                      Throws: Left
Age: 26                      Born: 2-4-59 at Taylorville, Illinois

Became Cardinal — Signed as a free agent on August 3, 1983, following his release by Cleveland Indians' organization.

M.L. Service — 0.000.

1984 — For a player who had been released only a few months before, Pat Perry had a remarkable 1984 season. As a reliever, he pitched in 25 games at Arkansas with a 1.11 ERA and in 21 games at Louisville with a 2.22 mark. In addition, he struck out 94 in the same number of innings, and walked only 38. The Taylorville, IL, resident may not make the Cardinals this season, but if he can keep up those figures, he's not far away.

Misc. — He was originally the Houston Astro's second selection in the regular phase of the January, 1978, free agent draft. He graduated from Taylorville, IL, High School in 1977 and attended Lincoln Land J.C. Named to the Florida State League Northern Division All-Star team in 1980. Played for Mayaguez of the Puerto Rican Winter League in the 1984-85 season.

DARRELL RAY PORTER (15)

Catcher                      Ht: 6-1                      Wt: 202
Bats: Left                      Throws: Right
Age: 33                      Born: 1-17-52 at Joplin, Missouri

Became Cardinal — Signed as free agent December 13, 1980, after selection in re-entry draft.

M.L. Service — 12.075.

1984 — Porter had a season filled with more than his share of bumps and bruises. In his 8th game of the season, Darrell received a chip fracture of the collar bone in a home plate collision with Pittsburgh's Doug Frobel, a wild pitch fractured the base of his right thumb, May 8, sidelining him for 10 games and he was hit by Miguel Dilone's errant bat, June 25. Through it all Porter still managed to start 115 games and drive in 68 runs, 2nd highest on club and his highest personal total since he had 112 in '79...Two of the highlights of his year were memorable home runs — a July 18 grand slam in the 11th inning vs. San Francisco, the sixth of his career, and the first of back-to-back home runs off Montreal's Dave Palmer, September 27...Continued to show a good eye at the plate, walking 60 times.

Career Highlights — Porter led the 1983 Cardinals in walks, tied for first in pinch-hit RBI, was second in slugging percentage, home runs and pinch-hits and fourth in RBI... Defensively he lived up to his reputation as a solid and durable receiver, fielding .989 and starting all but 41 of the Cardinals' games... Two of the highlights of his year were a July 4 grand slam at Pittsburgh, the fifth of his career, and a mammoth Memorial Day homer in St. Louis that cleared the 414-mark in centerfield, an area few reach, and earned him a curtain call from appreciative Cardinal fans.

Porter's 1982 performance will long be remembered and measured by his post-season performance. After spending the regular season trying to find the consistent swing that earned him four All-Star squad nominations while in the American League, Porter exploded during the playoffs. He was named MVP of both the LCS and the World Series, batting .351 over the post-season period and playing outstanding defense. During the regular season he hit above his .250 career average on the road, but struggled at home. Still, he maintained his reputation as a strong defensive catcher and was credited by many with being the steadying influence on the Cards' pitching staff whose performance far surpassed pre-season expectations... For the second year in a row Porter spent part of the season on the disabled list after he fractured his right index finger when hit by a foul tip on May 14.

Was the cog on which the Cardinals' 1980 winter trades were based; however early injury in 1981 prevented him from fully living up to expectations. He had problems with his right arm in spring training that nagged him through the first month of the season. Dismissed at first as just tight scar tissue, it resulted in his placement on the disabled list on May 18 with a slightly torn rotator cuff. After an extended period of rest he returned to active duty on August 19.

Darrell came to the Cardinals in 1981 after eight full seasons (service in 10 years) in the American League with an impressive record, including selection to four All-Star squads, participation in three championship series and one World Series... His batting average over his last four seasons at K.C. was .271.

His top pro season was 1979, when, according to Whitey Herzog, his manager (then and now, he should have been the American League's Most Valuable Player. In that season he was fifth in the league in RBI, tied for fifth in triples and ninth in runs. He collected 100 RBI, runs and walks that season, becoming only the second catcher in A.L. history to achieve that (the other: Mickey Cochrane of Detroit in 1932) and the first A.L. player to do it since Carl Yazstremski of Boston in 1970.

His 1980 performance dropped off possibly as a result of missing most of spring training and the early part of the season while undergoing rehabilitation from an alcohol problem. He was the No. 1 selection of the Milwaukee Brewers in the June, 1970, free agent draft, and came to Kansas City on December 6, 1976, with pitcher Jim Colborn for outfielder Jim Wohlford, infielder Jamie Quirk and a player to be named later.

Awards/Honors — Named Most Valuable Player of both the 1982 National League Championship Series and the World Series... Named to American League All-Star Team in 1974, 1978, 1979 and 1980... Placed on the Sporting News major league All-Star team in 1979... Received the St. Louis BBWAA award for Outstanding Achievement in Baseball in 1982.

Misc. — He attended Southeast High School in Oklahoma City, and was All-Oklahoma in baseball, and All-American as a quarterback in football... He reached an agreement with the Cardinals while he and his wife Deanne were on their honeymoon cruise in the Caribbean in December, 1980. The Porters became parents for the first time on March 31, 1982 when Lindsey Deanne was born... Porter holds the record for most consecutive errorless games in the LCS - total series. He played flawlessly in 12 straight games from October 5, 1977 to October, 1980 while with the Kansas City Royals.

SECOND-BEST SINCE ALL STAR BREAK

The Cardinals were the second hottest team in the National League after the All-Star break in 1984. They were 42-33 (.552) since the mid-summer classic, trailing only the Chicago Cubs who were 48-29 (.623) after that point.

DAVID MICHAEL RUCKER (36)

Pitcher      Ht: 6-1      Wt: 190

Bats: Left      Throws: Left

Age: 27 (Turns 28 on September 1)

Born: 9-1-57 at San Bernardino, California

Became Cardinal — July 5, 1983. Was acquired from the Detroit Tigers on a waiver claim. Completed the Cardinal trade with the American League team for Doug Bair, originally signed by Tigers as 16th selection in June, 1978 draft.

M.L. Service — 2.055.

1984 — For the second straight year, Dave Rucker achieved a "personal best" ERA of 2.10, following his 2.43 with the Cardinals in 1983. He appeared in 75 games with his primary raison d'être to retire one tough left-handed hitter. One achievement is that Dave did not give up a home run in his 73 innings pitched in 1984, and only one in the 37 innings he worked for the Cardinals in 1983. In his first 19 innings (16 games) in 1984, he gave up only one run and 11 hits.

Career Highlights — Rucker served as the Cardinals' number one left-handed reliever after his acquisition from Detroit on July 5, 1983. He allowed only seven of the 23 runners on base when he entered the game to score and retired the first man he faced 22 of 34 times. Rucker tied for the team lead with a four-game win streak, an unusual honor for a reliever...Over one stretch in late August and early September, Rucker allowed only three earned runs in 20 innings for a 1.35 ERA during 17 game appearances...Rucker was a roster player at the Tigers' Spring Training Camp but was optioned to their AAA affiliate in Evansville on April 12. He joined the Tigers in Detroit on May 27. He was acquired by the Cardinals to fill the roster spot left open when the team asked for unconditional release waivers on Jim Kaat.

The Tigers recalled Rucker from Evansville on July 4, 1982...First appearance July 7 at Chicago...First major league start September 4 vs. Oakland...First major league complete game at Cleveland, October 2...First major league victory vs.

Texas, July 25...Was 2-0 with 0.00 in three games vs. Baltimore (7 H, 0 R, 10.1 IP)
 ...Was 3-0 with 0.47 ERA in final four appearances of season...Had six strikeouts vs. Oakland, September 4. Led Evansville with 52 appearances in 1980...Made 1981 Tigers with strong spring training...Made major league debut, April 12 vs.
 Toronto...Optioned to Evansville, May 4.

Misc. — Originally was Detroit's 16th selection in the June, 1978, free agent draft...Rucker graduated from Eisenhower H.S., Rialto, CA, in 1975. He attended U.C.L.A. and LaVerne College.

MICHAEL HAROLD SHADE (41)

Pitcher      Ht: 6-2      Wt: 205
 Bats: Right      Throws: Right
 Age: 24      Born: 3-7-61 at Pottstown, Pennsylvania

Became Cardinal — Fourth selection in regular phase of June, 1982, free agent draft.

M.L. Service — 0.000.

1984 — Mike Shade moved around a lot in 1984, but it was always upwards. Starting at St. Petersburg, then to Arkansas and then to Louisville, he made his mark wherever he went. He had 8 saves at St. Pete and 7 at Arkansas, and for the season struck out 94 batters in 96 innings. It would be asking a lot for him to make the big leagues this season, but he may not be too far away. In 1984, he also pitched in the Florida Winter Instructional League, appearing in 6 games, was 1-0 with 2 saves and had an ERA of 0.00.

Misc. — Earned four letters in baseball from Boyertown, PA, High School from which he was graduated in 1979. He majored in accounting at West Chester, PA, State College from 1979 to 1982, and lettered in baseball for three years. He participated in the Little League and American Legion amateur programs.

LONNIE SMITH (27)

Outfielder      Ht: 5-9      Wt: 170
 Bats: Right      Throws: Right
 Age: 29      Born: 12-22-55 at Chicago, Illinois

Became Cardinal — November 19, 1981 in a three-way deal in which Cardinals acquired Smith from Philadelphia, sent pitchers Lary Sorensen and Silvio Martinez to Cleveland, and Cleveland sent catcher Bo Diaz to Philadelphia. Cleveland also acquired a player to be named later from Philadelphia.

M.L. Service — 5.082.

1984 — Lonnie Smith knows for the Cardinals' attack to be successful he must be the catalyst. With a honed eye at the plate, Lonnie went about the task, increasing his walk total from 41 in '83 to 70 last season, 10th in the National League... Smith also paced the N.L. in hit-by-pitch, reaching base 9 times by that route... With Lonnie on first base the fun was just beginning for one of the league's best base stealers... in

'84, he made good on 50 of 63 steal attempts, a success rate of 79%...The stolen base wasn't Lonnie's only weapon either. 5 times he hit first inning home runs to ignite the offense including a lead-off inside-the-park homer April 14 vs. Pittsburgh of Rick Rhoden...Connected on the second grand slam of his career August 31 vs. Houston off Nolan Ryan...Led N.L. outfielders with 18 assists and 11 errors...Enters the '85 season with a career .300 batting average.

Career Highlights — Smith throughout his career has made things happen with his consistent batting and aggressive running. He led the 1983 Cardinals in batting average, on-base percentage, runs and stolen bases; was second in doubles; and third in hits and home runs. A late season surge when Lonnie hit .360 in the last 28 games of the season and .484 in the last eight, gave him a shot at the batting title going into the last game. He went 2-4 but fell one hit short and had to settle for a third place finish behind Bill Madlock and Jose Cruz. On the league level, Smith finished fifth in stolen bases and 7th in on-base percentage...Lonnie missed part of the season after he voluntarily admitted himself to a drug rehabilitation program. He was placed on the disabled list June 11 and upon completion of the in-patient part of his therapy, rejoined the club on July 8...Prior to his stint on the disabled list, Lonnie's running game had been off-pace as he had stolen only 11 bases and been caught 11 times. When he returned to competition he was successful on 30 of 36 stolen base attempts, including 16 straight immediately following his reactivation from the disabled list...He more than doubled his career stolen base total in 1982 as a starter and proved that he could maintain his .300 plus batting average when playing on an everyday basis. He also showed he was capable of hitting with power, collecting more doubles, triples and home runs than he had in his previous 2½ years of major league play...He led the Cards in batting average, runs, hits, doubles, triples, and stolen bases and was second in games played...On the league level he was 4th in batting average, 1st in runs, 2nd in stolen bases, 5th in hits and triples and 6th in doubles...Among the many highlights of Smith's season were: stealing five bases in one game (9/4) to tie a modern National League Record, reaching the 100 career stolen base level and hitting his first ever grand slam home run and his first inside-the-park round-tripper...Started the season in centerfield but was moved to left field when David Green and Willie McGee proved they could handle centerfield...Smith had the Cardinals' longest batting streak of the year, 17 games...He tied with George Hendrick as the leading batter in the 1982 World Series with a .321 average.

Going into 1982 Smith had a .321 batting average for just under 2½ major league seasons, and had stolen 60 bases, including setting a record eclipsed by Juan Samuel in '84, for Philadelphia rookie with 33 SB in 1980. He batted .600 in the 1980 League Championship Series against Houston and .263 in the World Series vs. Kansas City. In 1981, he played all three outfield positions, replacing Garry Maddox in center field in the late-season going. He hit safely in the final 23 games of the year to tie Art Howe of Houston for the longest such streak in the league for 1981. He was 34-for-82, .415 during that string, bringing his average from .245 to .324.

He averaged .309 and 39 steals in six minor league years, and his 21 assists led all American Association outfielders in 1978.

Awards/Honors — Chosen Rookie of the Year in 1980 by The Sporting News and Baseball Digest, and finished third in the BBWAA balloting...In 1982 he was elected to the National League's All-Star team and voted to both United Press International's and The Sporting News' post-season All-Star team...He was the National League's Player of the Week for August 30-September 5, 1982...Given award as the St. Louis BBWAA's Man of the Year in 1982.

Misc. — Lonnie and his wife Pearl (Jeter) have two children. ## OSBORNE (OZZIE) EARL SMITH (1)

Shortstop      Ht: 5-10      Wt: 150

Bats: Both      Throws: Right

Age: 29      Born: 12-26-54 at Mobile, Alabama

Became Cardinal — Acquired February 10, 1982, in a trade with San Diego for Garry Templeton.

M.L. Service — 7.000.

1984 — Diving and scrambling for smashes with his acrobatic fielding ability it's no wonder Ozzie Smith, appropriately nicknamed "The Wizard of Oz", was everybody's all-league shortstop. Ozzie was recognized as the National League's premier shortstop on A.P., U.P.I., and The Sporting News post-season teams, and for the second consecutive season was voted the N.L.'s starting shortstop on the All-Star team...Smith did not win this wide acclaim on past reputation either, he earned it on the field, leading the N.L. in fielding pct. (.982), while committing a career low 12 errors...Ozzie also sparked the Cardinals with his bat and speed in '84. His .314 mark from the right side of the plate was tops in his career and his 11 sacrifices led the team. On the basepaths, Ozzie was one of the league's most successful thieves making good on 35 of 42 stolen base attempts, a success rate of 83%...Smith was also one of the most difficult players to strikeout, averaging only a strikeout every 28.5 plate appearances...Missed a month of the season when he was hit by a Ed Whitson pitch July 13 that fractured the ulna bone in his right wrist. Returned from the disabled list August 20 in grand fashion going 2-for-4 (double, triple)...Thrilled opening night crowd with his traditional season opening pre-game back flip, and then closed the evening's festivities with a three-run homer to defeat Pittsburgh, 4-1...Won his fifth straight Gold Glove...Finished 10th in N.L. stolen bases (35).

Career Highlights — In '83, was the league's best shortstop in terms of put-outs and total chances even though for the first time in five years he was edged out of the lead in the assist category, finishing behind Houston's Dickie Thon...Still he won his fourth consecutive Gold Glove...Elected to play for the National League All-Star team for the third year in a row, "The Wizard of Oz" led the 1983 Cardinals in games played, was second in sacrifice hits and walks and third in doubles, triples, stolen bases and game-winning RBI.

In 1982 Smith surely must have set a record for standing ovations given in a season to a defensive performer. He was the N.L.'s best shortstop on a percentage basis, won his third straight Gold Glove and led the league in assists for the fourth straight year...Ozzie's .984 fielding percentage is a Cardinal season record for a shortstop...Not only did he maintain his level of performance on the field, but Ozzie also emerged as a solid hitter after working with Cardinal coaches at spring training on developing his swing to take advantage of Busch's artificial turf. He notched the most doubles of his career and increased his major league home run total to three by sending two out of the park...After missing only 13 games in his first four major league seasons, Smith was sidelined for 18 days late in the year due to a hematoma of his right thigh...Smith set a 7-game World Series record for most putouts by a shortstop with 22. In 1981 Smith maintained his level of near perfect performances in the field, his .976 fielding percentage was best in the league. In addition, he led the National League in chances with 658 and in games played with 110.

Ozzie capped a sensational defensive season at shortstop in 1980 by winning his first Gold Glove after setting a new major league record for assists by a shortstop...Ozzie set the new mark September 26 vs. Dodgers when he surpassed a mark Pittsburgh's Glenn Wright had established in 1924. Wright's mark was 601 assists and Oz finished the season with 621...Ozzie's .974 fielding average was the best in the N.L. of those shortstops who play on natural fields...Overall, Tim Lincecum (.981) and Dave Concepcion (.978) finished ahead of Ozzie, but Oz had 307 more chances than Foli and 201 more chances than Concepcion...Ozzie also participated in more double plays than any other N.L. shortstop...He may have set the stage for his season by handling, 16 total chances, including 12 assists, April 12 vs. the Giants in San Diego. He joined with Gene Richards and Jerry Mumphrey to become the first trio in N.L. history to all steal 50 bases in the same season - Smith (57), Richards (61), Mumphrey (52).

In 1979 his .976 fielding percentage was exceeded by only Larry Bowa and Tim Lincecum and he handled 150 more chances than either of those players...He also led the Padres in stolen bases (28) and sacrifice hits (22) and was 2nd on the club in runs scored (77) and games played (156)...Was the N.L.'s 5th toughest hitter to fan in 1979 (1 every 17.54 AB).

He became the Padres' regular shortstop in 1978 after only 68 games of professional experience at Walla Walla of the Rookie Northwest League in 1977...Had tremendous rookie season...Was runner-up to Atlanta's Bob Horner for Rookie of the Year honors...Played in 159 of the Padres 162 games, leading the league in sacrifice hits with 28 and finishing 4th in stolen bases with 40...Was drafted by Padres in June, 1977 draft and played at Walla Walla, batting .303...Hit .323 during the off-season in the Arizona Instructional League and it was there he caught the eye of Padre brass.

Awards/Honors — Smith has won five consecutive Sporting News Gold Glove Awards (1980-1981-1982-1983-1984)...He was elected to the 1981, 1982, 1983 and 1984 National League All-Star teams, starting the 1983 classic...Voted to United Press International's and also The Sporting News N.L. post-season All-Star team in 1982 and '84...Was named one of St. Louis's Baseball Man of the Year by the local BBWAA Chapter in 1982...In 1979 he toured Japan with the National League All-Stars in a post-season trip, along with current teammate, Bob Forsch.

Misc. — He and wife, Denise, have one child, Osborne Earl, Jr., born on 4/28/82...A panel of California fashion experts named Ozzie as one of the 10 best casually dressed men of America in 1982 along with such notables as Alexander Haig and Johnny Carson...Graduated from California State Poly (San Luis Obispo) where he had a fine collegiate career. He played for an All-Star College club between his junior and senior years, and went with them to Taiwan for an international tournament. The team wound-up in second place with Smith being named the tournament's MVP...Ozzie was nominated for the N.A.A.C.P. Image Award for Sportsmanship, Humanitarianism and Community Activities in 1983...This season he kicked-off his "Operation Grand slam" in St. Louis, Ozzie introduced the program in San Diego.

It's a national campaign designed to teach children living in juvenile halls proper baseball skills and techniques. As he travels to each major league city, Ozzie enlists the aid of a player from each city's baseball team to assist him in teaching that city's children proper techniques in fielding and hitting...Ozzie serves on the President's Council for Drug Abuse and was a national spokesman for C.P.R....He was the subject of a three-page feature in People magazine in June of 1983...The Wizard joined a group of Cardinal representatives in the winter of 1982-83 on an Anheuser-Busch promotional tour of Japan...He played Connie Mack baseball on the same team with Lonnie Smith in Compton, California.

JOHN THOMAS TUDOR (48)

Pitcher      Ht: 6-0      Wt: 185
Bats: Left      Throws: Left
Age: 31      Born: 2-2-54 at Schenectady, New York

Became Cardinal — On December 12, 1984 with outfielder Brian Harper in a trade with Pittsburgh for outfielder George Hendrick and catcher Steve Barnard.

M.L. Service — 4.157.

1984 — John Tudor figures into Whitey Herzog's plans as a possible No. 2 man behind Joaquin Andujar, and gives the Cardinals another lefthander they've long sought. He was 12-11 in his first National League season, finishing with a 4-1 record and 1.39 ERA in his last five starts. He made 11 starts in which he allowed one or fewer earned runs, and was 8-0 with three no-decisions in those games. The Pirates scored two or fewer runs in nine of John's 11 losses, including three shutouts. His first National League shutout was on June 3, when he beat Montreal on four hits. He walked two or fewer in 23 of his 32 starts. He finished third among National League pitchers in batting (based on 70 or more at-bats), ending at .211 (16-for-76) in his first professional season as a hitter. The Pirates' Rick Rhoden (.333) and the Braves' Rick Mahler (.296) were 1-2.

Career Highlights — In 1983, was 10th in the A.L. in strikeouts, ninth in innings pitched and tied for 10th in shutouts and starts...Led Red Sox in wins, starts, innings pitched and strikeouts...Worked 10 scoreless innings in a start vs. Texas on April 17 and went 10 innings again two starts later at California...Tossed a one-hitter at Toronto on May 27, winning 2-0; only hit was a fourth inning single by Dave Collins. In 1982, ranked 12th in the A.L. in ERA and fifth in the league in strikeouts...His 146 strikeouts were the most by a Boston lefthander since 1970 and was the first lefthander since Mel Parnell in 1950 to lead the Sox in K's...Fanned 11 at Detroit on September 19, a personal high and most by a Red Sox lefty since 1974...Was 7-2 with 2.92 ERA in final 12 starts. In 1981, John was a starter prior to players' strike but was moved to bullpen when season resumed. In 1980, was 8-4 with 2.91 as a starter after being recalled, despite missing 20 games between July 23 and August 13 due to shoulder tendinitis. Tudor made major league debut on August 16, 1979 vs. Chicago and picked up first big league win vs. Detroit on September 21. ## ANDREW J. VAN SLYKE (18)

Infielder      Ht: 6-1      Wt: 190
 Age: 24      Born: 12-21-60 at Utica, New York

Became Cardinal — Selected by Cardinals in first round of the regular phase of the June, 1979, free agent draft. Signed by scouts Roland Johnson and Bart Shelly.

M.L. Service — 1.108.

1984 — Van Slyke continued to be Cardinals "Mr. Versatile" making 25 starts at first base (.996, 255 TC, 1 E), 26 at third base (.929, 99 TC, 7 E), 11 in left, 9 in center and 25 in right for a combined flawless outfield average of (1.000, 93 TC, 0 E). Through all the changes in position Andy still kept a good eye at the plate drawing 63 walks combined with 88 hits for a .354 on-base pct., second highest among regulars... Van Slyke started and finished the season hot, hitting .300 (9-for-30) in his first 10 games and finished up bating .339 (19-for-56) in the last 16 games in which he had an at-bat... Continued to excel against New York Mets' pitching .347 (17-for-49)... Had 22 multiple hit games including 4-for-5 performance on August 1, against the Mets... Season high point came in July 8 game against Los Angeles, his 3-run homer in the 9th tied game and a RBI single in the 12th led to an 8-6 come-from-behind victory... Andy reached base a league leading 4 times via catcher's interference.

Career Highlights — Listed as "one of the Cardinals' bright prospects in the minor leagues" in the 1983 media guide. It didn't take the youngster long to live up to that assessment. Batting .368 with 41 RBI in 54 games at Louisville, Van Slyke was called up to St. Louis on June 15, 1983 when Mike Ramsey was placed on the disabled list and after Keith Hernandez had been traded to the Mets. By year-end, Andy, appropriately nicknamed "Slick" had started seven games at first base (.974, 78 TC, 2 E), 25 at third base (.987, 75 TC, 1 E), 21 in left field, 6 in centerfield and 22 in right field (.974, 115 TC, 3 E). Through all the switches he hit a strong .262, drove in 41 runs and hit eight home runs, third highest on the team. Four of his homers came off New York Mets' pitchers, with three of them coming in his first 10 major league at-bats at Shea Stadium on three consecutive days (June 21-23) right after he was called up. Had a good year both offensively and defensively in 1982 in his first year at the AA level. Led the Texas League in triples with 11; and led the Arkansas Travelers with 37 stolen bases...An aggressive hitter with power, he was one of the team's leading hitters, batting .279 with 16 home runs and 70 RBI.

Awards — Named St. Louis Rookie of the Year for 1983 by the St. Louis Chapter of the BBWAA.

Misc. — Graduated from New Hartford, NY, High School in 1979 where he lettered in football, basketball and baseball. Selected for the New York State Empire Games in basketball. All-Star and All-American in baseball his senior year. Injured his hand in final high school game in 1979 and was sidelined for the entire '79 professional season...Andy married the former Lauri Griffiths early in 1983. After missing three games for the wedding, Van Slyke returned to Louisville and played a game after travelling all day. He proceeded to commit four errors that handed Denver five unearned runs. Andy atoned for the miscues in the seventh inning by hitting a triple that drove in the tying run...The Van Slyke's added Andrew James, Jr. to their family on November 19, 1983.

100 WINS THREE STRAIGHT YEARS

The Cardinals are one of only three major league teams to have won more than 100 games in each of three straight seasons. The Cardinals accomplished it in 1942 (106), 1943 (105) and 1944 (105). The Philadelphia A's strung together seasons of 104-102-107 wins in 1929-'30-'31. The Baltimore Orioles were the last team to accomplish the feat. They surpassed the mark in 1969 (109), 1970 (108) and 1971 (101).

TODD ROLAND WORRELL (38)

Pitcher      Ht: 6-5      Wt: 200

Bats: Right      Throws: Right

Age: 25 (Turns 26 on September 28)

Born: 9-28-59 at Arcadia, California

Became Cardinal — Cardinals' first selection in the regular phase of the June, 1982, free agent draft.

M.L. Service — 0.000.

1984 — Todd Worrell seems to be something of a mystery to baseball men. A power pitcher in the 90 mph range, he hasn't made the proper advancement. Starting out at Arkansas in 1984, he wound up with a 3-10 record before he was more or less relegated to St. Petersburg, where he had a respectable 3-2 mark with a 2.09 ERA. He also pitched well in the Florida Winter Instructional League with a 1-1 record, 2.04 ERA.

Misc. — He is a 1977 graduate of Maranatha High School in Arcadia, CA, where he had letters in baseball, basketball and football. He attended Biola University, LaMirada, CA, for five years, majoring in Christian Education. He was picked to The Sporting News All-America team in 1982. He participated in the Little League, Pony and American Legion programs as an amateur.

MIKE ROARKE (4) — HAL LANIER (8) — NICK LEYVA (16)
TRAINER: GENE GIESELMANN

WILLIAM (BILL) A. LYONS (30)

Infielder      Ht: 6-1      Wt: 175
 Bats: Right      Throws: Right
 Age: 26 (Turns 27 on April 26)
 Born: 4-26-58 at Alton, Illinois

Became Cardinal — April 29, 1981. Signed by the Cardinals as a free agent following his release by the Milwaukee organization during spring training, 1981.

M.L. Service — 1.017.

1984 — Bill Lyons had three tours of duty with the Cardinals in 1984. He was first optioned out in April, recalled in May, then optioned again in June. He saw very little service the first two times up, but was busy when he returned in mid-July, filling in first for Ozzie Smith at shortstop while he was on the disabled list, and later at second for Tommy Herr, when he was sidelined with a pulled stomach muscle in September. He had no hits in 10 at-bats in his first two tours, but hit with some consistency when he later played more or less regularly.

Career Highlights — In 1983, Lyons' contract was purchased from the Louisville Redbirds on July 19 after Dane Iorg was placed on the disabled list. A versatile fielder, Lyons played at second base, shortstop, and his strongest position, third base. Lyons' first hit was recorded July 24 off of Los Angeles' Jerry Reuss. Lyons played at all three levels in the Cardinals' organization in 1982... He led 1981 N.Y. Penn League in RBI (65) and game-winning RBI (12). Was selected by the Topps Chewing Gum Co. as N.Y. Penn League's August, 1981, Player of the Month... Selected on the Topps-National Association All-Half-Season "A" and Rookie League All-Star team, 1981... Selected on the 1981 N.Y. Penn League All-Star team.

Misc. — Lyons graduated from Alton, IL, High School in 1976 where he lettered in baseball (All-Star in 1976) and basketball (All-Area)... He graduated from Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, in 1980 and majored in marketing... Played four years varsity baseball at SIU... Lyons missed the Cardinals' September 24, 1983 game against the Phillies because he was walking down the aisle with Martha Jo Leach. The wedding had been planned before Bill was called up to St. Louis... Lyons was a recipient of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch Scholar Athlete Award in 1976 when he was an All-Star shortstop.

ARGENIS ANTONIO SALAZAR (55)

Infielder Ht: 6-0 Wt: 170

Bats: Right Throws: Right

Age: 24 Born: 11-4-61 at El Tigre, Venezuela

Became Cardinal — January 24, 1985. Selected in player compensation pool draft from Montreal. (Received compensation pick for Atlanta Braves signing of free agent pitcher Bruce Sutter.)

M.L. Service — 1.002.

1984 — Another in the line of slick fielding Venezuelan shortstops (Aparicio and Concepcion), Salazar split the season between Montreal and Indianapolis (AAA). Argenis' .988 fielding percentage (163 TC, 2 E) paced American Association shortstops, he however appeared in only 42 games at short and did not qualify for the fielding title...At Montreal, he split playing time at short with Derrel Thomas and Chris Speier, appearing in 80 games.

Career Highlights — After playing the 1982 season at West Palm Beach (A), Salazar was invited to his first major league training camp in '83. He began the regular season at Wichita (AAA) where he was impressive with his glove and surprised everyone with his bat...Between June 19 and July 10 he put together a 20-game hitting streak (27-for-84, .338), with 7 doubles, 2 triples, 1 homer and 14 RBI...Made his major league debut on August 12, picking up his first major league hit in his first at-bat vs. Pittsburgh's Cecilio Guante on August 12...Argenis signed as a non-drafted free agent by Montreal at the age 19 on January 20, 1980...In 1982 while with West Palm Beach, he was named the MVP of the mid-summer All-Star Game leading his team to victory with three hits and scoring two runs...Led Florida State League shortstops in assist by a margin of 24, with 364...in 1981, led Pioneer League shortstops in fielding pct. (.961), assists (228) and double plays (45).

Misc. — Graduated from Juan Andres Varela High School in Barinas, Venezuela...Grew up a fan of fellow countryman Dave Concepcion...Played for LaGuaira in the Venezuelan Winter League.

MINOR LEAGUE MANAGERS

JIM FREGOSI — LOUISVILLE

Jim Fregosi's two years as manager of the Louisville Redbirds have not only been successful ones for the club, but also for Fregosi personally. In 1983, the Redbirds finished first in their division in the American Association, and also set an all-time minor league attendance record by drawing 1,052,438 fans. The Louisville record of 78-57 was the best of the year, and Fregosi was chosen "Manager of the Year"...

In 1984, his team finished fourth, but won a playoff game against Wichita to qualify for the standard playoffs, and then went on to become the league champion. For that job, Baseball America picked Jim as the best manager in the minor leagues.

Fregosi managed the California Angels for all or parts of four years from 1978 through 1981, posting a 237-248 record: the second highest win total by an Angels' manager. The Angels produced their top season to date in his first full year with California, 1979, setting a team record 88 wins and earning the first division championship in club history.

A former shortstop, Fregosi's playing career spanned 18 major league seasons and included all-star recognition six times and one Gold Glove. He still holds numerous Angel career records and in 1969 was selected the all-time greatest Angel by a vote of the fans.

The 41-year-old Fregosi is married to the former Janet Bennett. They live in Orange County, CA, and have two children, Jimmy and Jennifer. In the off-season, Fregosi runs his own food brokerage business.

JIM RIGGLEMAN — ARKANSAS

Jim Riggleman moves up to AA this season after two and a half successful seasons as manager of Class A, St. Petersburg. Riggleman compiled a 185-171 (.520) record and had his team in playoff contention two of the past three seasons.

Prior to being called on to manage, Riggleman was serving as a coach for the AAA Louisville Redbirds. A Cardinal farm hand for six years, Riggleman began his coaching career in 1981 when he acted as a player-coach for the Arkansas Travellers for the first part of the campaign and then retired from his playing career in May to concentrate on coaching.

His best year as a player came in 1980 when he batted .295 and hit 21 home runs for the Arkansas Travellers. The third baseman was selected on both the 1980 Topps Chewing Gum National Association Class AA All-Star team and the Texas League's All-Star team. He played in the Los Angeles Dodger organization from 1974 until 1976.

Riggleman, age 32, is a graduate of Frostburg State College with a major in physical education. He lives in Rockville, Maryland.

During the off-season, Riggleman works as a substitute teacher on the high school level.

DAVE BIALAS — ST. PETERSBURG

Dave Bialas takes over the managerial reins at St. Petersburg in '85. Bialas enters the season with a 225-186 (.547) mark for his three seasons of managing in the Cardinals farm system. In '82 and '83, his Springfield clubs were division champs, and the '82 team posted a 83-53 record, best in the history of the franchise.

Bialas is no stranger to the Cardinal organization having spent all of his 10-year minor league career with the Cardinals. He began his career in 1973 at Orangeburg and ended it making some appearances as a designated hitter in 1982, as a player-manager at Springfield.

He was originally selected by the Cardinals in the June, 1972, free-agent draft following his graduation from Bellaire, TX, High School. He was signed by Scout Hal Smith. Bialas, born March 6, 1954, at Houston, Texas, lives at Bellaire with his wife and son.

LLOYD MERRITT — SPRINGFIELD

Lloyd Merritt in 1985 will handle the managerial chores for the Cardinals' Class A Springfield team. Merritt comes off one of his most rewarding seasons in baseball, taking a team that finished last in the league in hitting and molding it into a division champ, with strong pitching and a solid defense.

Merritt renewed his association with baseball as the manger of the Gastonia Cardinals in 1982 after spending considerable time in private business.

Merritt started his baseball affiliation in 1951 as a pitcher for the Yankees' Joplin farm club. He made it to the major leagues with the Cardinals in 1957, and was on the roster again the following year although he was traded before he saw any action during the season.

Merritt continued to pitch in the minor leagues until 1960, then was a member of the Cardinals' batting practice staff for three years. He performed as scout of the Atlanta Braves in 1964 and '65.

His next connection with baseball was his promotion as a pitching instructor at the "Show-Me" Baseball Camp in Branson, MO. The native St. Louisan went to Beaumont High School and is a graduate of the University of Missouri.

GAYLEN PITTS — SAVANNAH

Gaylen Pitts returns to the managerial ranks in 1985 after spending the past two seasons in the coach's box at Louisville. Pitts, a former Cardinal minor league player who made it to the major leagues as an infielder with the Oakland A's, rejoined the Cardinals in 1981 serving as manager of the AA team at Arkansas in '81 and the early part of '82.

Pitts' previous managing experience came with Modesto of the A's organization where he finished fourth in both 1978 and '79.

He originally signed with the Cardinal organization in 1964 out of Mountain Home, AR, High School, where he lettered in baseball, basketball and football. He also attended the University of Arkansas and Arkansas State University, Jonesboro. He played in the Cardinal minor league organization until 1971, reaching as high as Triple-A. His major league experience was 18 games in 1974 and 10 in 1975 with Oakland.

RICH HACKER — JOHNSON CITY

Rich Hacker returns to Johnson City after a one year absence that saw him manage Erie, the Cardinals other half season league team. His Erie club finished the season with a 43-31 mark, good for 2nd place in the NY-Penn League West Division.

Hacker previously managed Johnson City in 1982 finishing with a 32-35 record, and in '83 when his club was 30-42 overall.

The 37-year-old former infielder was hired in November, 1981, to fill a dual role as a manager in the system and as a special assignment scout for the Cardinals.

Hacker's first connection with St. Louis was in 1965 when he was drafted by the Cardinals, although he never signed with the team. A graduate of Southern Illinois University-Carbondale, he was drafted and signed by the New York Mets in 1966. As a shortstop, he played briefly in the majors for the Montreal Expos in 1971 before returning to their farm system.

Hacker was a midwest area scout for the Toronto Blue Jays in 1981. He worked in the same capacity for the San Diego Padres for two years prior to that.

Hacker resides in Belleville, IL with his wife and two sons. He is the nephew of former major league pitcher, Warren Hacker, and he grew up in New Athens, IL, the hometown of Whitey Herzog.

JOE RIGOLI — ERIE

Joe Rigoli returns to Erie after a one year stint with Springfield, which saw him lead the Class A Cardinal team to the Midwest League (South Div.) title. Under his supervision, Erie had an overall record of 68-76 in 1982 and 71-73 in 1983, with a second place finish in the second half of the '83 season.

A native of Monsey, NY, he was signed out of Fairleigh-Dickinson College of Teaneck, NJ, in 1978 to a contract as a catcher with the Oakland A's farm at Bend, OR. However, midway in the season, he was moved up to the A's to serve as bullpen catcher under manager Jack McKeon.

In 1979, he was a player-coach for Newark, NY, in the NY-Penn League and in 1980 he became baseball coach at Ramapo College of Mahwah, NY. While at Ramapo, in 1980 and '81, he was also a teacher of mathematics, a subject in which he received his Bachelor of Science degree from Fairleigh-Dickinson.

FARM SYSTEM COACHES

FRED KOENIG — LOUISVILLE, COACH

Fred Koenig will be starting his first season as a coach with the Louisville Red Birds. He is very familiar with the Cardinal organization having assisted manager Red Schoendienst as a coach in 1976 and worked in the front office during the 1973 and '74 seasons as Director of Player Development.

Koenig also has previous coaching experience with the Chicago Cubs (1983), Texas Rangers (1977-82) and California Angels (1970-71). He also has nine seasons of experience as a manager in the minor leagues.

In a minor league career that spanned 13 seasons, from 1951 to '63, the former first baseman compiled a lifetime batting mark of .273, including 119 home runs.

Fred graduated from Central High School, St. Louis, in 1950 and attended the University of Illinois.

DYAR MILLER — ARKANSAS, COACH

Dyar Miller enters his first year as a full-time coach in 1985, after a 17-year professional pitching career. His career started in 1968 at Huron of the Northern League and ended, due to injuries, after the first month of the '84 season at Louisville.

Along the way, Miller had big league appearances with the Baltimore Orioles, California Angels, Toronto Blue Jays and New York Mets, compiling a big league mark of 23-17 in 251 games.

Miller was first signed as a catcher by Philadelphia in 1968 after graduating from Utah State University with a Bachelor of Science degree, majoring in history.

MARK RIGGINS — ST. PETERSBURG, COACH

Mark Riggins returns for his second season as a coach in the Cardinals' organization. Last year he coached at Johnson City.

The 28-year-old native of Jasper, Indiana, had a 5-year minor league career in the St. Louis system, which saw him reach as high as the Triple A level in 1983.

Riggins in 1980 led Florida State League pitchers in games (57) and saves (13) and was named to the league's All-Star team.

The 1979 graduate of Murray State University was a 3-year All-Conference pitcher.

JORGE ARANZAMENDI — JOHNSON CITY, COACH

Jorge Aranzamendi enters his third season as a coach in the Cardinal farm system. He began his coaching career in 1982 at Arkansas and coached at Savannah in '84.

Aranzamendi had a 9 year minor league career spanning from 1971 to '81. He played the infield at all levels of the Cardinal organization from '77 to '81.

Jorge also coaches in his native country, Puerto Rico, during the off-season.

FARM SYSTEM INSTRUCTORS

DON BLASINGAME — INSTRUCTOR

"The Blazer", a long-time Cardinal favorite as a player, returned to the Redbirds in 1983 as an infield instructor in the minor leagues.

Blasingame, 52, had a 12-year major league career in the United States - the first five of them with the Cardinals. He later played with San Francisco, Cincinnati, Washington and Kansas City.

Following his U.S. play, he went to Japan, and played for three more years, with the Nankai Hawks in Osaka, before becoming a coach. He coached with the Hawks for eight years and with the Hiroshima Carp in 1978. He was manager of the Hanshin Tigers in 1979 and '80, and for the Nankai Hawks in 1981 and '82. He still is under contract to the Hawks as their representative in the United States.

He and his wife, Sara, and four children reside in Tempe, AZ.

HUB KITTLE — PITCHING INSTRUCTOR

After three seasons as pitching coach of the St. Louis Cardinals, Hub Kittle returned in 1984 to the job he held for four years previous to that — a position as pitching instructor in the Cardinals' minor league system. He also will spend some time in free-agent scouting.

The 68-year-old Kittle's previous jobs with the Cardinals were as minor league pitching instructor in 1976 and from 1978 to '80, and as manager at St. Petersburg in 1977.

Among other distinctions, Hub has pitched professionally in six decades, capping it with a one-inning stint at Springfield, Ill., late in the 1980 season. (He got them out 1-2-3).

Kittle makes his home in Yakima, Washington, and is the father of seven children (four sons and three daughters). He started pitching professionally in 1936, but never reached the major leagues. He became a minor league manager in 1948, the first of 19 seasons he would pilot farm system clubs. From 1960 to '63 he served as General Manager at Yakima, WA, Honolulu and Portland, OR. He was named Minor League Executive of the Year by The Sporting News while at Yakima in 1960. He joined the Houston organization as a minor league manager in 1968 and served on the Astro coaching staff from 1971-'75.

DAROLD KNOWLES — PITCHING INSTRUCTOR

Darold Knowles, who spent the last two seasons of his long and successful major league pitching career with the Cardinals, moved into the coaching area for the first time in 1981 as a pitching instructor.

In his 15-year career as a reliever (he appeared in 775 games, major league record for left-handers, and started only 8), he won 66, lost 74 and had 143 saves. He pitched for eight major league clubs, and was a member of the Oakland teams that won four divisional titles, three pennants and three World Series (1972-73-74). He is the only major league pitcher to appear in seven games in one World Series...He did that in 1973 against the Mets, and had saves in games 1 and 7.

BOB MILLIKEN — PITCHING INSTRUCTOR

Bob Milliken returns for his ninth year in his second term as a farm system pitching instructor for the Cardinals. "Bo" also served as the organization's pitching instructor from 1971-75 and then became a pitching coach in 1976 for St. Louis. He was the Red Birds' bullpen coach from 1965-70.

Milliken was an active player for 15 years. He played in the Dodger organization from 1947-59. He contributed an 8-4 record as long relief man for the pennant-winning Dodger club in 1953, and pitched against the Yankees in the World Series. He joined the Cardinal organization in 1960 and pitched for Red Bird farm clubs at Memphis, Atlanta and Charleston.

Bob pitched batting practice for the Cardinals in 1963 and '64.

JOHNNY LEWIS — HITTING INSTRUCTOR

Johnny Lewis is entering his fourth season as a hitting coach for the Cardinal farm clubs. He had spent the previous three years managing in the system.

Lewis started his St. Louis career in 1959 as an outfielder. He saw major league service with the Cardinals and Mets. While with the Mets, he hit a 10th inning home run to break up a no-hitter by the Reds' Jim Maloney in 1965. Lewis retired after the 1968 season.

He worked in the Cardinal front office as assistant promotions and sales director for two years, and was farm system administrative assistant in 1972. He joined the Cardinals' coaching staff in March, 1973, and remained for five years until he began managing at Calgary in 1977 and '78. He managed the Cardinals' Gastonia team in 1979 and ran their Johnson City entry for two years after that.

Lewis, 44, was born in Greenville, AL, and lives in Atlanta, GA.

HOME RUN STREAK

The Cardinals hit at least one home run in six consecutive games (for a total of 8) between July 24-30, 1984. Prior to 1984, the team had not hit home runs on more than four consecutive days since the 1980 season when they accomplished it three times; 8/30-9/3 - five straight games and six homers; 6/20-6/24 - five straight games and six homers; and 5/30-6/5 - six straight contests and eight homers. In 1979 the Cards hit homers on nine consecutive days, 6/5-6/13, collecting a total of 12 homers in that time period.

THE RUNNING GAME

NEW STOLEN BASE RECORD: The team set a new post-1900 club record for stolen bases in a season. The previous record had been 207, set during the 1983 season. The Cards had 220 stolen bases in 1984.

200 THIRD YEAR IN A ROW: The Cardinals stole 220 bases in 1984, making it the third consecutive year they had reached the 200 stolen base level. They swiped 200 in 1982 and 207 in 1983...No other Cardinal team had accomplished this feat and no major league team had done it since the 1916 season...Following is a listing of the nine previous teams to have stolen 200 or more bases in three or more consecutive years since 1900.

- 1) St. Louis Browns 1913-1916 (4 seasons)
- 2) Detroit Tigers 1909-1915 (7 seasons)
- 3) Cincinnati Reds 1909-1914 (6 seasons)
- 4) New York Giants 1909-1914 (6 seasons)
- 5) Philadelphia Athletics 1909-1914 (6 seasons)
- 6) New York Yankees 1910-1914 (5 seasons)
- 7) Washington Senators 1911-1914 (4 seasons)
- 8) Chicago Cubs 1901-1908 (8 seasons)
- 9) New York Giants 1903-1907 (5 seasons)

Cardinal teams had stolen 200 or more bases in back-to-back years two times before they did it in 1982 and 1983. They swiped 204 in 1892 and 250 in 1893. Redbird runners took 207 in 1899 and 243 in 1900.

5 x 20: The Cardinals closed the 1984 season with 5 runners who had 20 or more stolen bases: Lonnie Smith (50), Willie McGee (43), Ozzie Smith (35), Andy Van Slyke (28), and Terry Pendleton (20)...The Cardinals were the only major league team to have that many runners reach the 20 stolen base level...Four other teams had a trio of runners exceed the 20-steal mark: New York (Backman - 32, Strawberry - 27, Wilson - 46); Cincinnati (Concepcion - 22, Milner - 21, Redus - 48); Philadelphia (Hayes - 48, Samuel - 72, Stone - 27); and Toronto (Collins - 60, Garcia - 46, Moseby - 39)...In 1983 four Cardinals stole 30 or more bases for the first time in St. Louis history: L. Smith (43), O. Smith (34), Willie McGee (39), and David Green (34)...Five Redbird runners have stolen 20 or more bases in a season five different times: 1984, 1983, 1913, 1895 and 1893. In 1983 when it was accomplished the players were: Lonnie Smith (43), Willie McGee (39), David Green (34), Ozzie Smith (34) and Andy Van Slyke (21)...Cardinal teams have produced six runners with 20 or more stolen bases on two previous occasions: 1900 and 1892...The last time a major league team had six players with 20 or more stolen bases was 1980 when the Houston Astros accomplished the task with the following combination of players: Cesar Cedeno (48), Jose Cruz (36), Terry Puhl (27), Joe Morgan (24), Rafael Landestoy (23), Enos Cabell (21).

THE CARDINALS' WORLD SERIES STORY . . . YEAR BY YEAR

- 1926 The Cardinals defeated the Yankees, four games to three, to win their first world championship. Grover Cleveland Alexander, obtained by the Red Birds in a midseason trade with the Chicago Cubs, won the second and sixth games, then came on to save the seventh.
- 1928 Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig paced the Yankees to a four-game sweep of the Cardinals. Ruth hit .625 for the Series and had three home runs in one game, and Gehrig had a .545 batting average. Four of Gehrig's six hits were home runs, and he had nine runs-batted-in.
- 1930 Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics defeated the Cardinals, four games to two, as the Red Birds hit only .200 and the Athletics .197. Cardinal victories were scored by Bill Hallahan, 5-0, in the third game, and Jesse Haines, 3-1, in the fourth.
- 1931 The Cardinals got revenge on the Athletics, defeating Philadelphia, four games to three. Pepper Martin, the Wild Horse of the Osage, paced the Red Birds, stealing five bases, collecting 12 hits and hitting .500. Bill Hallahan and Burleigh Grimes each pitched two victories for the Cardinals.
- 1934 The "Gas-House Gang" won the National League pennant on the final day of the season, then defeated Detroit in the Series, four games to three. Dizzy and Paul Dean, who combined to win 49 games during the regular season, each won two games over the Tigers. The final game of the Series, won by the Cardinals, 11-0, was marked by Commissioner K.M. Landis' order to eject Joe (Ducky) Medwick from the game. Medwick had collided with Tiger third baseman Marvin Owen in the sixth inning, and his actions so infuriated the Detroit fans that they bombarded Ducky with fruit, vegetables and debris when he went to his position in left field in the seventh inning. Landis removed Medwick to halt the disturbance.
- 1942 The Cardinals lost the first game of the Series to the Yankees, then roared back to win four straight. Rookie pitcher Johnny Beazley won two games; lefthander Ernie White shut out the Yankees in the third game, and third baseman Whitey Kurowski hit a decisive triple in the second game, then clinched the finale with a two-run home run in the ninth inning.
- 1943 The Yankees evened their World Series record against the Cardinals at 2-2 as they defeated the Red Birds, four games to one. The key play of the Series occurred in the third game. With the Cardinals holding a 2-1 lead in the eighth inning, Johnny Lindell crashed into Whitey Kurowski at third on a sacrifice bunt and jarred the baseball loose from Kurowski's hand. Billy Johnson then tripled to drive in three runs, the Yankees went on to score five times in the inning and Manager Joe McCarthy's powerhouse coasted to victory. The New York Yankees also won the next two games to take the championship.

- 1944 In this only all-St. Louis World Series, pitching dominated and the Cardinals defeated the Browns, four games to two. The pitchers struck out a record total of 92 batters, 49 of them by Cardinal moundsmen and 43 by the Browns' hurlers. Emil Verban topped Cardinal hitters with a .412 average.
- 1946 Harry (The Cat) Brecheen won three games and the Cardinals topped the Boston Red Sox, four games to three. With the score tied 3-3 in the last half of the eighth inning of the seventh game, Enos Slaughter singled, then scored all the way from first on Harry Walker's hit to left center, a sprint that surprised relay man Johnny Pesky of the Red Sox and allowed Slaughter to score the winning run.
- 1964 A team victory for the Cardinals, who defeated the Yankees, four games to three. Bob Gibson won two games; Ken Boyer hit a grand-slam home run to win the fourth game; Tim McCarver, who topped Cardinal hitters in the Series with a .478 average smashed a 10th inning home run to win the fifth game, and Ron Taylor and Roger Craig contributed valuable relief help.
- 1967 Bob Gibson pitched three complete-game victories and Lou Brock put on one of the finest offensive displays in World Series history as the Cardinals defeated the Boston Red Sox, four games to three. Gibson limited the Red Sox to only 14 hits in the three games, and Brock topped all Series hitters with a .414 batting average. Lou also set a Series record by stealing seven bases, and Roger Maris hit .385 and drove in seven runs, a Cardinal Series record.
- 1968 The Cardinals had a three-game-to-one lead, but the Detroit Tigers stormed back to win the last three contests and claim their first world championship in 23 years. Left-hander Mickey Lolich, a motorcycle enthusiast who played in the shadow of 31-game winner Denny McLain all year, was superb for the Tigers as he won three games, including the 4-1 finale. Bob Gibson won two games for the Red Birds, and set records by striking out 17 batters in the first game and a total of 35 for the Series, breaking the mark of 31 he set against the Yankees in 1964.
- 1982 The Cardinals came back from a 3-2 deficit in games to defeat the Milwaukee Brewers and bring the World Series Championship Trophy back to St. Louis for the first time in 15 years. Joaquin Andujar nailed down two victories and posted a 1.35 ERA while Bruce Sutter was credited with one win and two saves. John Stuper became only the 14th rookie to start two World Series games, winning the crucial sixth game for the Redbirds in a rain delayed contest that took five hours to complete. Dane Iorg batted .529 and tied a series record for most hits by a designated hitter. Rookie Willie McGee turned heads by hitting two home runs and making two spectacular catches in one game. Darrell Porter was named MVP on the strength of his timely hitting and solid defense.

OTHER CARDINAL HISTORICAL HIGHLIGHTS . . .

- 1876 St. Louis became a charter member of the National League, then withdrew after the 1877 season.
- 1892 St. Louis back in the N.L. The team was called the Browns, later became the Perfectos.
- 1899 The ballclub changed the team nickname from Perfectos to Cardinals.
- 1920 Team moved from Robison Field to Sportsman's Park.
- 1922 Rogers Hornsby won the triple crown with 42 home runs, 152 RBI's and a .401 batting average.
- 1924 Hornsby won the National League batting title with a .424 average, highest mark in the circuit since 1900.
- 1925 Hornsby again won the triple crown with 39 home runs, 143 RBI's and a .403 average.
- 1937 Joe (Ducky) Medwick won the triple crown with 31 home runs, 154 RBI's and a .374 batting average.

- 1940 First night game in St. Louis for Browns and (then Cardinals). Johnny Mize set a St. Louis home run record of 43.
- 1946 Home paid attendance topped one million for the first time.
- 1948 Stan Musial won his third National League Most Valuable Player award and led the league in virtually every batting department — average (.376); runs (135); hits (230); total bases (429); doubles (46); triples (18); runs-batted-in (131), and slugging percentage (.702).
- 1950 Cardinals played the first night opener in St. Louis.
- 1953 Anheuser-Busch, Inc., bought the Cardinals, then renovated Sportsman's Park and renamed it Busch Stadium.
- 1954 Musial hit five home runs in a doubleheader against the Giants at Busch Stadium on May 2.
- 1957 Musial established a National League endurance record when he extended his streak of consecutive games played to 895 before an injury forced him to the bench. The mishap occurred at Philadelphia on August 22 when he tore a muscle and chipped a bone in his shoulder blade as he swung and missed a high, outside pitch. He won the batting title with a .351 average.
- 1958 Musial, pinch hitting in the sixth inning, collected a double against the Cubs at Wrigley Field in Chicago on May 13, and that dramatic blow was the 3,000th hit of his career.
- 1962 Musial, nearing his 42nd birthday, made a solid bid for his eighth batting title as he hit .330, but Tommy Davis of the Los Angeles Dodgers won the crown with a .346 mark.
- 1963 Musial, who won seven National League batting titles in his 22-year career with the Cardinals and had a lifetime average of .331, announced his retirement. His famous No. 6 became the first Cardinal number to be retired.
- 1966 The Cardinals closed old Busch Stadium on May 8 with a 10-5 loss to the San Francisco Giants. On May 12, they opened the new Busch Memorial Stadium in downtown St. Louis by defeating the Atlanta Braves, 4-3, in 12 innings. The winning run scored when Lou Brock singled with the bases loaded, driving in Curt Flood. The winning pitcher was Don Dennis, the loser Phil Niekro. Mike Shannon got the first Cardinal hit, a first-inning single and Atlanta's Felipe Alou hit two home runs. Cardinals hosted this year's All-Star game at the new park.
- 1967 Home paid attendance went over the two million mark for the first time.
- 1968 Bob Gibson had a 22-9 record, hurled 13 shutouts, had a 15-game winning streak and allowed only 38 earned runs in 304 innings for an ERA of 1.12, a major league record for a pitcher who worked more than 300 innings. He set a World Series strikeout record with 17 in the first game against Detroit. His remarkable season earned him the National League's Cy Young Award and he was also named MVP.
- 1969 On September 15, Steve Carlton struck out 19 New York Mets in a nine-inning game to set a major league record. He lost the game, 4-3, as Ron Swoboda hit a pair of two-run homers. He struck out at least one man in every inning and fanned the side in four different innings. His record was tied in 1970 by New York's Tom Seaver. The surface at Busch Stadium is changed from grass to artificial turf.
- 1970 Gibson had a 23-7 record and received his second National League Cy Young Award.
- 1971 Torre wins batting title with .363 average and is named MVP. Gibson pitches his first no-hitter, beating the Pirates, 11-0, on August 14. Schoendienst establishes longevity record for Cardinal managers, completing his seventh season. Brock became first major league player to steal 50 or more bases in seven consecutive years.
- 1972 Gibson extends his major league record for most season 200 or more strikeouts to nine. Gibson sets National League record with his 2,786th strikeout, the most lifetime for a righthanded pitcher. Brock extends his record for most consecutive season, 50 or more stolen bases to 8. Cardinals draw 50,000,000th fan since 1900.
- 1973 Brock steals his 600th base and moves into 9th place on the all-time list. Brock sets major league record for stealing 50 or more bases for 9 consecutive years. Gibson moves into second place on all-time strikeout list. Torre gets his 2000th hit and 1000th RBI.

- 1974 Brock steals 118 bases to break Maury Wills' one-season mark and Max Carey's National League career record. Lou moves from ninth to second on major league's all-time career stolen base list. Bob Gibson strikes out the 3,000th batter of his career to become only the second pitcher in baseball history to reach that figure. The Cardinals draw more than 1,800,000, the third highest home attendance in their history. Red Birds and Mets play 25 inning game, the longest night game in major league history and the longest game ever played to conclusion. Cardinals win as Bake McBride scores from first on two errors. McBride named "Rookie Of The Year."
- 1975 Lou Brock gets 2500th hit and 800th stolen base of his career. Bob Gibson retires after 17-year Cardinal career and 251 victories. Gibby is honored by SRO crowd on Bob Gibson Day. Jacket Day turnout of 50,548 is largest regular season crowd in St. Louis baseball history. Hrabosky compiles 13 wins and 22 saves and is named "Fireman of the Year." Ted Simmons finishes second in league batting race with .332 average.
- 1976 John Denny wins National League ERA title at age 23, tying youngest righthander to win ERA title in N.L. Lou Brock gets 2700th hit of his career and closes to within 27 of tying Ty Cobb's stolen base record.
- 1977 Lou Brock breaks Ty Cobb's career stolen base mark with number 893 in San Deigo, August 29. Garry Templeton becomes youngest M.L. shortstop ever to gather 200 hits in a season. Templeton leads majors with 18 triples, highest number since 1957. Ted Simmons sets club record for home runs by a catcher with 21. Ken Reitz sets new fielding record with N.L. third baseman by committing only 9 errors. Bob Forsch wins 20 games.
- 1978 Bob Forsch no-hits Phillies 5-0, April 16 at Busch Stadium. Manager, Vern Rapp dismissed April 24. Ken Boyer becomes Cardinal Manager April 29. Ted Simmons sets club season record and career high with 22 homers for a catcher. George Henrick has 7 RBI's at Atlanta, August 25. Busch Memorial Stadium gets new astroturf.
- 1979 Lou Brock collected his 3000th career hit (single off Dennis Lamp) in the 4th inning against the Cubs on August 13 at Busch Stadium. On September 23, Brock stole his 938th base making him baseball's all-time stolen base leader surpassing William (Sliding Billy) Hamilton. Keith Hernandez wins batting title with .344 average and is co-winner of National League M.V.P. award with Pittsburgh's Willie Stargell. Garry Templeton led N.L. with 211 hits. Templeton also led the league in triples with 19, for the third year in a row, setting a new N.L. record and tying the major league mark. His 19 triples are highest number since 1957. He became the first switch-hitter in major league history to collect 100 hits, both right and left handed, in one season. Garry finished with 100 hits RH and 111 hits LH. Ted Simmons hit a career high 26 home runs, which also set a club record for homers by a catcher.
- 1980 Ken Reitz sets new fielding record for N.L. third baseman by committing only 8 errors. Dane Iorg has 7 RBI's, August 28 vs. Atlanta. Manager Ken Boyer dismissed June 8. Whitey Herzog becomes Cardinal manager June 9. On August 18, John Claiborne fired as G.M. and Herzog named G.M. on August 29. Red Schoendienst served as interim manager for balance of season. On October 24, Herzog assumed dual role of general manager and field manager.
- 1981 The Cardinals finished the season with the best winning percentage in the Eastern Division, but missed the playoffs because they finished second in each of the two sections of the schedule caused by the mid-summer players' strike. The Philadelphia Phillies, leaders when the strike began, were voted the first-half championship (however, the Phillies, Cardinals, and Cincinnati Reds voted against it), while Montreal won the second half. In each half, the Cardinals played fewer games than the "winners", and could have tied or won either half with the opportunity to play the same number of games. In the individual field, Bruce Sutter, one of several players obtained in winter trades by Herzog, was the National League's top reliever, winning the Rolands Relief Man award.
- 1982 In order to concentrate more on his managing duties, Whitey Herzog stepped down as General Manager on Opening Day, turning the reins over to Joe McDonald. The move paid off as the Cardinals were out of first place for only 48 days of the season and claimed their first ever National League East Championship. A 3-0 sweep of the Atlanta Braves put the Cards in their 13th World Series against the Milwaukee Brewers who fell 4-3 to St. Louis in the 'Fall Classic.' The 1982 team was characterized by an aggressive running style of baseball; seven players stole bases in the double figures, led by team catalyst Lonnie Smith who swiped 68. The team hit only 67 home runs, the fewest in the major leagues. Strong and consistent pitching performances were the rule; prior to clinching the title the Cardinals never lost more than three games in a row. Bruce Sutter had a hand in almost half of the team's victories.

- 1983 Despite the fact that the 1983 Cardinals finished in fourth place, eleven games out, the team was competitive and exciting, although inconsistent, throughout much of the season. The team climbed to within ½ game of the division lead on September 5 before embarking on a thirteen-day road trip during which the failure of the starting rotation caused the team to plummet out of contention. Still there were noteworthy performances during the year. As a team, the running Redbirds set a new club record with 207 stolen bases. Individually, Danny Cox made his way from extended spring training in April to playing a part in the Cardinals' starting rotation. Bob Forsch pitched the second no-hitter of his career. The league's best right-fielder, George Hendrick, moved to first base after Keith Hernandez was traded and earned post-season honors at his new position. Ozzie Smith won his fourth straight Gold Glove and Willie McGee won his first one.
- 1984 The Cardinals got off to a bad start in 1984 and dwelled in fifth place for much of the first half of the season before turning things around after the All-Star break. Following the mid-summer classic the Cards posted a 42-33 record, second in the National League only to the eventual N.L. Champions, the Chicago Cubs. That surge lifted the Cards into a third place finish in the division at year end despite contending with many injuries. . . . The team's 220 stolen bases set a new club record, surpassing the 207 mark from 1983, and made them the first major league team since the 1916 St. Louis Browns to steal 200 or more bases three years in a row. . . . Individually, Bruce Sutter set a National League and tied the major league record for saves in a season (45). Joaquin Andujar (20-14) became the club's first 20-game winner in seven seasons. Rookie Terry Pendleton hit .324 after joining the club in July and sparking the team to a 41-29 record. . . . The Cards drew over 2,000,000 fans for the third consecutive year.

BUSCH STADIUM

Busch Stadium, the home of the St. Louis Cardinals, was officially opened on May 12, 1966. Since that time, the facility has become the focal point of an extensive downtown St. Louis redevelopment effort which has resulted in millions of dollars in new office buildings, hotels, parking garages and other facilities, including the Bowling Hall of Fame and Museum.

Busch Stadium is owned and operated by Civic Center Corporation, one of the Anheuser-Busch Companies, Inc. Anheuser-Busch, originally the largest single investor in the corporation which constructed Busch Stadium, purchased the remaining shares of stock in 1981 and now operates Busch Stadium and other Civic Center properties.

Anheuser-Busch and Civic Center Corporation have made a number of additions and improvements to the facility since it was acquired in 1981, adding to the fans' total entertainment experience.

One of the major additions was the installation of a new, state-of-the-art scoreboard system. Erected in 1983 prior to the baseball season, the scoreboard system features a color video screen with replay capabilities and a black and white matrix board with animation capabilities.

A new metal halide lighting system was also installed last season to improve the fans' viewing of the game.

The newest addition to Busch Stadium is a new Astro Turf field surface covering. The new turf is Astro Turf-8, a permeable Drain-Through covering which permits water to flow through the turf to a system of underground drains, alleviating rain delays and time-consuming vacuuming of water from the field surface.

Since the first event was held in Busch Stadium (when the Cardinals defeated the Atlanta Braves, 4-3, in 12 innings on May 12, 1966) nearly 46 million people have passed through the stadium's turnstiles to view professional baseball, football, soccer, collegiate, high school and amateur sporting events, and a variety of other entertainment events, including concerts and truck and tractor pulls.

Busch Stadium has a maximum seating capacity of 60,000 when a portion of the 165,000 square-foot field area is utilized. Permanent seating for baseball is 50,300, and 51,392 for football.

The stadium's basic structure is concrete, with the exception of the movable seating sections, which are steel. The nearly circular stadium has an outside diameter of approximately 800 feet, and covers an area of more than 12 acres.

Busch Stadium is essentially a two-deck stadium, with approximately half the seats in each deck. Seats completely surround the playing field with no posts or columns to obscure the spectator's view. Two sections of 3,600 seats each can be moved from a position along the first and third base lines to a position parallel to the football field.

The playing field at Busch Stadium is from 10 to 30 feet lower than the surrounding streets. Spectators move from the entrance level either up or down to the seating area. There are eight major entrances.

BUSCH STADIUM GROUND RULES

OUTFIELD AREA

Fair ball hitting above yellow line in left and right fields — HOME RUN. Ball hitting on or below yellow line is IN PLAY. Ball hitting on fly in basket attached to wall in left or right field — HOME RUN.

Fair ball bounding into field boxes, bleachers or enclosed area in left or right field corners or going through or under fences — TWO BASES.

DUGOUTS

Ball rolling onto top step of dugouts (which are at ground level) is IN PLAY.

Photographer's area on outfield end of each dugout shall be regarded as part of the dugout.

Ball thrown by pitcher from the rubber to catch baserunner off first or third base that goes into stand or dugout — ONE BASE.

A pitch, thrown or batted ball that hits anyone on the playing field except as otherwise provided for in the Official Rules is IN PLAY.

Any batted ball hitting automatic tarpaulin container would be a FOUL BALL.

Ball going through wire behind plate or lodging in it — ONE BASE on throw by pitcher — TWO BASES on throw by fielder.

QUALIFICATIONS AND REGULATIONS

QUALIFICATIONS FOR A BATTING CHAMPION: Highest batting average and 502 or more plate appearances.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR A PITCHING CHAMPION: Lowest ERA and 162 or more innings pitched.

PLAYER LIMITS: 40 until opening day; when the number must be reduced to 24 or 25 until September 1, when it again may become 40.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR A SAVE: A relief pitcher shall be credited with a save when he meets all three of the following conditions:

1. He is the finishing pitcher in a game won by his club, and
2. He is not the winning pitcher, and
3. He qualifies under one of the following conditions:
  - a. He enters the game with lead of no more than three runs and pitches for at least one inning, or
  - b. He enters the game with potential tying run either on base, at-bat, or on deck (that is, the potential tying run is either already on base or is one of the first two batsmen he faces), or
  - c. He pitches effectively for at least three innings.

DETERMINING BATTING AVERAGE: Divide the number of at-bats into the number of hits.

DETERMINING AN EARNED-RUN-AVERAGE: Multiply the number of earned runs by nine; take the number and divide it by the number of innings pitched.

TRADING REGULATIONS: Players are available on waivers in reverse order of standings, at the time waivers expire, if more than 30 days after start of the season; otherwise in reverse order of standings at close of preceding season.

INTER-LEAGUE TRADES: In two periods, (1) starting at 12:01 a.m., Pacific time, on the fifth day after the completion of the World Series and ending at midnight of the night preceding the last scheduled day of the Winter Meetings, and (2) between February 15 and April 1, no waivers are necessary.

In three periods, (1) midnight, night preceding the last day of the Winter Meetings to midnight, February 15; (2) midnight, April 2 to midnight, June 15, and (3) midnight, final day of the season to midnight, five days after the World Series — waivers necessary in assignor's league. In the period, midnight, June 15 to midnight, the last day of the season, major league waivers are necessary.

TRADING WITHIN LEAGUE: Midnight, the last day of the season — midnight, June 15 — no waivers necessary. Midnight, June 15 — midnight, the last day of the season — league waivers necessary.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR A "ROOKIE": A player shall be considered a rookie unless, during a previous season or seasons, he has (a) exceeded 130 at-bats or 50 innings pitched in the major leagues; or (b) accumulated more than 45 days on the active roster of a major league club or clubs during the period of the 25-player limit (excluding time in military service).

DETERMINING THE MAGIC NUMBER: Determine the number of games yet to be played, add one, then subtract the number of games ahead in the lost column of the standings from the closest opponent.

GAME WINNING RBI: The RBI that gives a club the lead it never relinquishes. NOTE: There does not have to be a game winning RBI in every game and all game winning RBI's must conform to the rule.

NEW LOOK DURING B.P.

Cardinal players had a new look during batting practice in 1984. They were wearing warm-up jerseys for the first time. The batting practice shirts are made of heavy mesh material and feature the individual player's uniform number and a script ST.L. The team will wear red shirts for home games and navy blue ones on the road...About half the teams in the league have gone to wearing the jerseys during batting practice. They save on the wear and tear of the game jerseys. In addition the shirts cut down on the amount of time the team's equipment staff must spend laundering jerseys. Prior to the arrival of the warm-ups, players would wear one game jersey for batting practice and change into a clean one for the game itself.
